2 Exchange Students Will Arrive Thursday To Spend Senior Year In Gettysburg

Two exchange students, who will spend their Senior year in Gettysburg High School, arrived here Thursday to spend a week with the families with whom they will reside during the winter in into the local school.

Seventeen-year-old Ana Maria Silva Alvarado, of Guatemala City, arrived Thursday evening at the Washington Airport where she was met by Mrs. James H. Allison and children, 42 W. Broadway. Miss Silva will spend the winter with Dr. and Mrs. Allison, whose daughter, Barbara, is a Senior at the local high school.

Mehmet Bayram, 17, of Gaziantep Province, Turkey, arrived Thursday afternoon in Harrisburg where he was met by Mr. and Mrs. George M. Gilbert, 450 W. Middle St., with whom he will spend the winter. Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert's son, Ted, is a Senior at the high school here.

LOCAL STUDENTS HELP

Arrangements for the two foreign students to reside with local families and attend Gettysburg High School during the current school year were made through the American Field Service International Scholarships. $1,400, or about half the cost of their stay here, was raised by the students of the Gettysburg Junior and Senior High Schools during the last two years.

So far the high school students here have raised sufficient funds to bring six foreign students to Gettysburg for their final year of high school under the American Field Service program. For each of the students the local high school pupils raised $650 as their share of the cost. Last year they were unable to complete arrangements for a student here and as a result two exchange students were secured for this year. The remainder of the cost of the student's visit to the U. S. is paid partially by the parents of the exchange students and partially by donations to the American Field Service.

Last year American Field Service brought 2,222 youths to America and sent 1,800 American youths abroad. This year it is hoped that 3,000 will be able to visit here under the program.

MISS RAMER

Miss N. Louise Ramer is president of the American Field Service Chapter here which is made up of students at the high school, teachers and a great number of adults throughout the borough. In addition to arranging for the visit of exchange students here and arranging for local youths to go abroad through the American Field Service, the local committee each summer also serves as host to foreign exchange students visiting Gettysburg as part of their tour of the U. S. during the summer following completion of the Senior year in high school.

The two foreign exchange students here this winter will take part next summer in an American Field Service trip to the west coast, while similar students in the west coast schools will come here as part of their tour of the U. S. before returning home.

STUDENTS WILL SPFAK

The exchange students themselves, in addition to their year in an American school, will also speak to various groups—after December 1—to tell local residents details of their countries. Miss Ramer explained that the American Field Service does not permit outside appearances as speakers before December in order to give the youths a chance to become acclimated and improve speaking skills before giving public talks.

Bayram, son of Mr. and Mrs. Besir Fuat Bayram, is the oldest of three children. He has a sister, aged 12, and a brother, aged eight. His father is a building engineer and his mother teaches algebra and geometry in a high school in Gaziantep Province. He plans to be an architectural engineer, is a Moslem and is interested in sports, particularly basketball.

Miss Silva, a Catholic, is the youngest of three children, with a brother 19 and a sister 22. Her father, Manuel Silva Paz, is manager of a coffee export company and Miss Silva plans to become a bi-lingual secretary.

Britain Refuses Spy's Plea

LONDON (AP)—The British Court of Appeal today refused to free fugitive spy Robert A. Soblen and upheld an order to deport him to the United States.

The court dismissed his appeal for a writ of habeas corpus. The ruling—fourth adverse decision Soblen has met in the British courts—means he may be deported to serve a life sentence in the United States for disclosing wartime secrets to the Soviet Union.

One last resort still lies open. Soblen can seek leave to appeal to the House of Lords, highest tribunal in the land. Only the nation's top law lords can now reverse the ruling given today. Soblen's lawyers have said they would carry the case to the lords.

Soblen, 61, a psychiatrist, has been in England since July 1, when he stabbed himself aboard an Israeli airliner bound from Tel Aviv to New York. Since then Home Secretary Henry Brooke has been trying to send him on to the United States.

Soblen jumped $100,000 bail and fled to Israel on a bogus passport.

KATHERMAN IS ACQUITTED BY COUNTY COURT

Walter H. Katherman Jr., a Littlestown attorney, was acquitted by the Adams County court this morning on a charge of fraudulent conversion brought against him by Barnes Brothers, a Littlestown construction concern.

The charge had been filed by Daniel R. Barnes, Hanover, one of the partners in the concern, after Katherman is said to have collected $7,806.34 from a Littlestown R. D. man, the late Ray J. Fisher, for Barnes Brothers, and then turned over $8,000 of that amount to the construction concern.

Trial without a jury was held before the Adams County court Thursday. At the conclusion of that session the court said it would announce its verdict this morning at 10:30 o'clock.

Attorney Katherman, with his local counsel, Attorney Gerald R. Walmer, and District Attorney Daniel E. Teeter were present for the sentencing.

LECTURES DEFENDANT

The court called Katherman before the bar, then announced that it "had analyzed very carefully the testimony in this case."

Judge W. C. Sheely continued, "You yourself are to blame for your appearance here today. You handled your relationship with your client badly by not letting him know your fee. There is no question that you had the right to deduct your fee from the amount paid over to Barnes Brothers, and you had the right to withhold some of the amount to guarantee your fee."

"The case turns on whether you retained the $1,800 to defraud or whether you withheld the $1,800 as your fee. The court is not convinced beyond a reasonable doubt that you intended to defraud, so it finds you not guilty of the charge."

"However this does not preclude any disciplinary action on the part of the Adams County Bar Association."

The court then adjourned until 9:30 o'clock Saturday morning.

PRESENTS PETITION

Northwestern Railroad Is Closed By Strike; 41,167 Cars Idle; Millions Lost

CHICAGO (AP)—Management and union officials arranged new bargaining talks today in an attempt to get trains rolling on the strikebound Chicago & North Western Railway.

The impact of the walkout Thursday morning by less than six per cent of the carrier's 16,300 employees deepened.

The strike over job elimination issues by fewer than 1,000 AFL-CIO telegraphers made a good carrier of the nation's third largest rail system.

STOP 200 TRAINS

Twenty daily long-run trains and 180 commuter runs were stopped. Some 35,000 daily commuters in the Chicago area who rode the trains from suburbs to and from work scrambled for other means of transportation.

Northwestern Railroad Is Closed By Strike; 41,167 Cars Idle; Millions Lost

CHICAGO (AP)—Management and union officials arranged new bargaining talks today in an attempt to get trains rolling on the strikebound Chicago & North Western Railway.

The impact of the walkout Thursday morning by less than six per cent of the carrier's 16,500 employees deepened.

The strike over job elimination issues by fewer than 1,000 AFL-CIO telegraphers made a ghost carrier of the nation's third largest rail system.

STOP 200 TRAINS

Twenty daily long-run trains and 180 commuter runs were stopped. Some 35,000 daily commuters in the Chicago area who rode the trains from suburbs to and from work scrambled for other means of transportation.

KATHERMAN IS ACQUITTED BY COUNTY COURT

Walter H. Katherman Jr., a Littlestown attorney, was acquitted by the Adams County court this morning on a charge of fraudulent conversion brought against him by Barnes Brothers, a Littlestown construction concern.

The charge had been filed by Daniel R. Barnes, Hanover, one of the partners in the concern, after Katherman is said to have collected $7,806.34 from a Littlestown R. D. man, the late Ray J. Fisher, for Barnes Brothers, and then turned over $6,000 of that amount to the construction concern.

Trial without a jury was held before the Adams County court Thursday. At the conclusion of that session the court said it would announce its verdict this morning at 10:30 o'clock.

Attorney Katherman, with his local counsel, Attorney Gerald R. Walmer, and District Attorney Daniel E. Teeter were present for the sentencing.

LECTURES DEFENDANT

The court called Katherman before the bar, then announced that it "had analyzed very carefully the testimony in this case."

Judge W. C. Sheely continued, "You yourself are to blame for your appearance here today. You handled your relationship with your client badly by not letting him know your fee. There is no question that you had the right to deduct your fee from the amount paid over to Barnes Brothers, and you had the right to withhold some of the amount to guarantee your fee."

"The case turns on whether you retained the $1,800 to defraud or whether you withheld the $1,800 as your fee. The court is not convinced beyond a reasonable doubt that you intended to defraud, so it finds you not guilty of the charge."

"However this does not preclude any disciplinary action on the part of the Adams County Bar Association."

The court then adjourned until 9:30 o'clock Saturday morning.

PRESENTS PETITION

Before the Katherman sentence was handed down Attorney Teeter handed up petitions for family exemptions in estates by the widow of Harry L. Flickinger, late of Straban Twp., and the widow of Glenn F. Shultz. In the Flickinger case, a will was written, but the "widow's exemption" procedure was asked because the (Continued On Page 2)

D., arrived home Thursday from Ann Arbor, Mich., where they represented the Black Walnut Boy Scout District at the first national Explorer delegates conference of the Boy Scouts of America. They were among 3,200 youths between the ages of 14 and 18 attending the conference.

Adair and Rothenhoefer were assigned to a discussion group of 30 Explorers from Arkansas, Florida and Illinois.

Adair, a member of Explorer Post 78 of Gettysburg, was elected leader for the group. Rothenhoefer, a member of Explorer Post 75, Aspers, had been named as a discussion group recorder prior to leaving here last week and was recorder for the group to which he and Adair were assigned.

COUNTY VOTES NO ON WHEAT CONTROL PLAN

Fifty-eight Adams County farmers cast ballots in the national wheat referendum Thursday. Forty-two voted against wheat controls and 16 voted in favor of continuation of the nation's wheat program.

Forty-two of those voting were unchallenged by the election officials, and 14 were challenged because their wheat acreage allotments were under 15 acres. But all 14 votes were allowed later when opened by the county agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee.

Under the law those who have less than 15 acres of wheat allotments may vote, but their vote is "challenged," placed in a sealed envelope and forwarded to the county ASC office.

APPROVE VOTE

The ASC committee then has the duty of determining whether the voter was correct in saying that he would plant more than 15 acres of wheat if he were allowed to do so, or whether the claim was made merely to vote. The ASC committee found all 14 of those who had been challenged were farmers who would grow more wheat if they could and counted their ballots.

The ballots as cast by district were: Littlestown, 3 yes, 10 no, (Continued On Page 3)

Determiation Brings Dramatic Recovery To Badly Paralyzed Girl

SHEBOYGAN, Wis. (AP)—Della Derlien, paralyzed from the waist down, dead and unable to speak seven years ago, has regained most of her faculties but probably is proudest of her most recent accomplishment of learning to swim.

The story of Miss Derlien's recovery was reported in New York Thursday at the meeting of the American Congress of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation. Additions to the dramatic story of the girl's recovery and of her other accomplishments through her determination were described by her aunt Mrs. Lorron Friedrichs of Sheboygan, with whom Miss Derlien 26, lives.

REMARKABLE GIRL

"She is a remarkable girl," Mrs. Friedrichs said. "Not only did she learn to lip read on her own but this summer she insisted on going to a summer camp alone where she learned to swim. She probably is prouder of her ability to swim than she is of the many other things she accomplished—like fighting her way back after being hopelessly paralyzed with spinal meningitis.

"Della is a very cheerful girl and never talks about the years she spent in bed and of the long surgery on her twisted body."

"She works part time as a photo retoucher for a Sheboygan studio, moves about freely in a wheel chair, dresses herself, helps me with the meals and housework."

"She never lost the ability to speak but she had to teach herself to lip read. She never took a course in that art."

"Now she eagerly is awaiting the return of her brother, Dennis, who will be released from the Navy in mid-September."

MOTHER DIED

The Derlien children came to live with Mr. and Mrs. Friedrichs when their mother died in 1950. The father, Peter, lives in Wausau, Wis.

LIFT AIRPORT QUARANTINES ON DIAGNOSIS

NEW YORK (AP)—Two persons suspected to have smallpox causing a quarantine of 200 persons at Idlewild Airport early today, were diagnosed later as "most likely" having chickenpox.

The new diagnosis, by U.S. Public Health Service officials, was reported by Dr. Stanley Goldstein, night supervisor at Bellevue Hospital, a few minutes after the two persons arrived there.

The 200 at Idlewild were quarantined for periods up to five hours during investigation of the suspected smallpox cases.

WORKING DIAGNOSIS

Goldstein said the Public Health Service officials gave him the working diagnosis of likely chickenpox while a Philadelphia woman and her three children—two of them with heavy rashes—were en route from the airport to the hospital.

Goldstein said he could not tell how long it would take the hospital to make a definite diagnosis.

The Public Health Service officials ordered the quarantine after they discovered what they considered "bad rashes" on the children.

ADDITIONAL TESTS

Goldstein said they reported later that the cases were probably chickenpox and they ordered the family to the hospital for additional tests.

The Philadelphia family was among a planeload of 132 persons arriving from Brazil.

The quarantine order covered the 122 passengers, 10 plane crew members and airport employees who had contact with those on the plane.

PASSENGERS RELEASED

All the passengers were released from quarantine by 6 a.m. They had to wait at the field until their baggage was fumigated. The Pan American World Airways jet on which they arrived also was fumigated.

The quarantine was the second smallpox investigation in the city this month. The first came after a 15-year-old boy with smallpox arrived at Idlewild Aug. 11 en route from Brazil to Canada.

Public Health Service officials reported the rash in the family of Mrs. Erecema Castiglione of Philadelphia.

EAGEN TO RULE IN REIS CASE VENUE CHANGE

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP)—State Supreme Court Justice Michael J. Eagen was expected to rule today on a petition by Lillian Reis' attorney seeking permission to argue before the full court for a change of venue in her retrial on charges of masterminding a Pottsville burglary.

Eagen heard arguments presented by Miss Reis' attorney in his chambers in the Lackawanna County Courthouse here Thursday he reserved a decision until he could consult with other members of the high court. The Supreme Court's next session convenes in Pittsburgh on Sept. 24.

Miss Reis, a Philadelphia night-club operator, has been scheduled for retrial Sept. 10 in Schuylkill County court on the charges which stemmed from the looting of a safe at the home of wealthy Pottsville coal operator John B. Rich in August, 1959. Her first trial ended in a hung jury. Police said the theft netted nearly $500,000.

CITES SPEECHES

Atty. William J. Krencewicz of Pottsville told Eagen that one of the reasons for the request was what he called prejudicial speeches during the 1961 political campaign of Superior Court Judge G. Harold Watkins in support of Dist. Atty. Harvey W. Lightstone.

Krencewicz said the speeches attacked Miss Reis' counsel at the time, attorney John Lavelle, who also was the opponent of Lightstone in the 1961 elections. Lightstone was elected.

MEXICO VOIDS LOREN-PONTI PROXY NUPTIAL

MILAN, Italy (AP)—A Mexican court has voided the Mexican proxy marriage of film star Sophia Loren and producer Carlo Ponti, their Italian attorney said today.

The action may save the couple from a bigamy trial in Italy.

At Juarez, Mexico, Antonio Lopez Machuca, who is Miss Loren's Mexican attorney, said no decree had been issued but that Judge Francisco Urango Munoz had advised him one would be announced today.

WORD RECEIVED

Attorney Mario Luzzati said in Milan he had received word that a court at Juarez had declared the marriage was nonexistent—that Miss Loren and Ponti had never been married.

The pair had asked for the nullification of their marriage because of Italian law not because of romantic difficulties.

Two months ago, an investigating judge in Rome, acting as a one-man grand jury, ordered Miss Loren and Ponti to stand trial.

HAS ONE DIVORCE

Ponti has a Mexican divorce from his first wife, but Roman Catholic Italy does not recognize divorce. He was charged with bigamy. Miss Loren, who had never married before, was charged with concurrence in bigamy.

Legal sources said the charges may be dropped as a result of the Mexican court action.

Ponti, 46, and Miss Loren, 27, were married by proxy in Juarez in September 1957, three years after Ponti obtained a Mexican divorce from his first wife, Giuliana Fiandra.

CITY MUSTERS LEGAL THRUST IN RACE CASE

By DON McKEE

ALBANY, Ga. (AP)—City officials—who told Negroes they should fight their racial battles in the courts—have mustered numerous technicalities in trying to kill the first legal thrust against segregation in Albany.

A motion by the city to throw out a desegregation suit is before U.S. Dist. Judge J. Robert Elliott. Elliott heard arguments Thursday on numerous legal points raised by the dismissal motion. Negroes have asked desegregation of parks, libraries, public recreational and travel facilities.

CITY COUNSEL

Attorney Hilliard P. Burt, counsel for the city, said the complaint failed to show a controversy between plaintiffs and defendants. The attorney argued that complainant Dr. W. G. Anderson, an Albany Negro leader, had never tried to use any of the facilities and, therefore has not been wronged.

Burt cited about 30 cases to back up his motion for dismissal.

CASES CITED

Constance Baker Motley of New York contended the complaint was properly offered and cited cases to support her argument. Mrs. Motley, chief counsel for the complainants, is an attorney for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

As the hearing progressed, 23 persons elected to stay in jail after their arrest four days ago for a prayer vigil at City Hall. They were among 75 jailed in the demonstration by out-of-state clergymen and church members. About 40 clergymen and others from the Chicago area left Thursday night by chartered bus for their homes after posting $200 bonds.

Start To Evacuate Refugees In Havana

HAVANA (AP)—A five-day airlift between Havana and Mexico begins today as Uruguayan diplomats start the evacuation of 303 persons in refuge in their embassy for months.

A Uruguayan embassy spokesman said the first of five chartered flights goes to Merida, on the Yucatan Peninsula, carrying 68 persons, of which 57 are political refugees and 11 others children.

Plans called for a flight a day until all the 303 persons are out of Cuba.

ILLNESS HALTS CALWELL VISIT TO HOME FOLKS

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—Illness has forced the indefinite postponement of politician Arthur A. Calwell's visit to his American cousins in Pennsylvania. He had expected to set out Thursday.

Calwell, who turned 66 on Tuesday, is leader of the opposition in the federal parliament. He just missed being prime minister after the last general election. The Liberal-Country party coalition of Prime Minister Robert G. Menzies defeated Calwell's Labor Party by a minute margin.

Calwell, whose ancestry is American, planned to visit Pennsylvania in the course of a five week trip to Europe and the United States, partly on business, partly on pleasure.

UNION COUNTY

Calwell, whose forebears came from Union County, Pa., said he always wanted to go there, and still hopes to make it.

One cousin he wants to look up is James M. Swisher, a pharmacist at Jameson Memorial Hospital in New Castle, Pa.

"I also want to get to Harrisburg where my great-grandfather was a member of the state legislature from 1820 to 1822."

He said his grandfather headed for Australia in the gold rush of 1863.

value of the estate, $245 worth of stock, is less than the amount permitted in a widow's exemption. In the Shultz case, no will was found. The estate consisted principally of a car valued at $425 on which there is a $500 note due.

Thursday afternoon during the trial of the Katherman case Attorney Thomas McBride, Philadelphia, former state attorney general and Supreme Court Justice, introduced testimony from Theron W. Spangler, of the Littlestown National Bank, that the Barnes Brothers had knowledge of the collection of the full amount shortly after December 12. He and Attorney Calvin A. Lingg, Hanover, also testified that the Barnes Brothers had conversed about the possibility that the unremitted $1,800 might be Katherman's fee.

DEDUCTED HIS FEE

In proving Katherman's good intentions, the idea that he did not mishandle the collected funds but simply deducted his fee, McBride called Attorneys Ruch and Markowitz, York, who had handled the case before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder, to testify that Katherman had consulted them about the amount of the fee and they had agreed that 20 or 25 per cent would be fair. Attorney Gerald Walmer and Mrs. Cooke, Katherman's secretary, also testified in this regard.

Lingg said that an additional $246 had been remitted later to the Barnes Brothers when they had consulted with him and he told Katherman that a straight 20 per cent fee might be preferable to the $1,800 and might calm the Barnes Brothers who felt they had been overcharged.

In his summation McBride held that three elements were necessary to prove fraudulent conversion: Withholding of the money of another, use of the money contrary to the consent of the injured, and fraudulent intent. He cited court decisions to uphold his contention that none of these had been proved.

McBride readily admitted that to take the fee without so telling the clients might be foolish but he maintained it was not unlawful.

The commonwealth case rested largely on the testimony of Daniel and Richard Barnes.

SAY DAMS WILL HURT ECONOMY

Predictions that construction of a series of large and small dams in Franklin County as proposed by the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers would upset the economy of the county were made at an "information meeting" held in Chambersburg Wednesday evening.

While construction costs would be met through federal funds, speakers at the meeting emphasized the economic cost to the county would be "staggering."

Upward of 30,000 acres of land, much of it prime farm acreage, would be taken over for the dams resulting in a drastic reduction in the county's tax base together with an equal drastic slash in the farm income, they declared.

Speakers were Robert W. Crouse, of Dry Run, and Mrs. Margaret Kilpatrick, of Washington, a Path Valley native and owner of real estate north of Richmond Furnace.

Crouse, who had been serving as temporary secretary of an opposition group organized after the Army agency's Potomac River Basin plans were made public, told the audience of several hundred that efforts would be made to set up a permanent organization at a meeting set for next Wednesday, also at the St. John's facility. He invited all interested groups to be represented.

Bloom Bristles At Fund Attack

HARRISBURG (AP)—Republican State Chairman George I. Bloom has denounced Gov. Lawrence's latest attack on GOP fundraising efforts as "ill-tempered, ill-considered and in extremely bad taste."

"The governor's blast, especially against the Mellon interests of Pittsburgh, is just another sign of how far and how fast the Democratic campaign is deteriorating," Bloom declared Thursday in a sharply worded statement.

Bloom's comments stemmed from remarks made by Lawrence on Wednesday criticizing the efforts of Republicans, including Frank Denton, vice president of the Mellon National Bank and Trust Co. of Pittsburgh, in planning two fund-raising dinners next month.

Bloom denied Lawrence's claim that there was a $1,000 price tag attached to the invitations extended for the two dinners—Sept. 25 at Bedford Springs and Sept. 27 at Hershey.

PUC Approves Bus Service To Carlisle

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Public Utility Commission granted a temporary approval to the Valley Transportation Co. of Lemoine on Thursday to furnish bus service between Carlisle and Gettysburg.

Final approval depends on the PUC's action on Valley's application for permanent rights on the service.

Valley seeks to replace the C and G Bus Lines, Inc., of Carlisle, which is going out of business.

In addition to the main run, Valley will continue bus service for riders on alternate routes through the Peach Glen, Aspers, Bendersville and Arendtsville Areas.

Supporting Valley's proposal to take over the lines, C and G explained it was financially unable to continue. A number of riders who objected to its service abandonment plan said at a hearing that they would be willing to use service by another line.

LABOR BOSSES ARE DELIGHTED WITH NEW JOBS

By BARRY SCHWEID
WASHINGTON (AP)—Two members of a mutual admiration society have returned to Washington, delighted with their new, higher stations in government life.

Puns and talk of filling shoes were in the air Thursday as Gold, Willard Wirtz and Arthur J. Goldberg met newsmen.

Goldberg is leaving President Kennedy's cabinet to replace Felix Frankfurter as an associate justice of the Supreme Court. Wirtz has been moved up from undersecretary to replace Goldberg as secretary of labor.

LOSS BOUQUETS

On their arrival from Chicago, where the two made an unsuccessful effort to head off a telegraphic strike against the Chicago & North Western Railroad, the former labor lawyers tossed bouquets at each other.

Goldberg said he suggested Wirtz as a successor. The gray-haired justice-designate said he was "delighted beyond words" that Kennedy picked Wirtz.

"If Mr. Goldberg intends a pun and means to say he is delighted beyond Wirtz, he is wrong," quipped Wirtz.

OFFERS SHIRT

Wirtz said Goldberg, feeling somewhat grimy after the plane trip, donned a clean shirt just before the news conference and offered to "lend Wirtz one."

"No, Mr. Secretary," Wirtz said he replied. "I'd rather try your shoes on."

It would have been a tight squeeze. The 6-foot-1 Wirtz wears size 13, Goldberg size 9.

Wirtz said he will follow Goldberg's principles, although he remarked that new problems are always arising and a man "can never step in the same river twice."

WAS VACATIONING

Wirtz had been vacationing with his family at a mountain resort near Winchester, Va., before going to Chicago with Goldberg and getting the news there by telephone from Kennedy that he had been chosen for the cabinet.

Resuming his vacation, he was greeted Thursday night with homemade signs manufactured by youngsters saying, "Congratulate our new secretary of labor" and "No strikes with Wirtz."

Then came a late supper—a cold roast beef sandwich.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The nation's wheat farmers have voted to continue controls on their crop, but by the smallest margin in 12 such tests since 1941.

Unofficial returns from the 39 commercial wheat states where balloting in the referendum was conducted Thursday gave 16,242 for and 74,454 against marketing quotas designed to restrict production in order to reduce costly surpluses.

This was a favorable margin of 68.4 per cent. Approval by at least 66 2/3 per cent—two-thirds—of the growers voting was required. Last year quotas were approved by an 87.4 per cent margin. The previous low was 73.3 per cent for the 1955 crop.

Returns in 16 states fell below the two-thirds level. These included Kansas, the No. 1 wheat producing state, as well as such other major producers as Colorado and Montana.

The Pennsylvania vote in the wheat referendum was 605 "yes" and 409 "no."

The program will allot 55 million acres to farmers for planting for the 1955 crop. It also would set marketing quotas which would limit sales to production on each farm's allotment. Excess sales would be subject to a penalty tax.

Kennedys Start Home For Holiday

RAVELLO, Italy (AP)—Jacqueline Kennedy and her daughter Caroline said goodbye to the Amalfi coast and their 11th century holiday villa today and started home to spend the Labor Day weekend with the President.

They left Rome aboard a Pan American World Airways jetliner for New York at 7:31 a.m. EST.

The Kennedy family plane, the Caroline, is to fly them on to the Quonset Point Naval Station in Rhode Island. The White House announced that President Kennedy would time his departure from Washington this afternoon to reach Quonset Point about the time his wife and daughter arrived. The family will spend the holiday weekend at Hammersmith Farm, the Newport home of Mrs. Kennedy's stepfather and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh D. Auchincloss.

The American First Lady and daughter had spent 23 days on the beautiful Amalfi coast, swimming, water skiing, yachting and mingling with the local folk. They enjoyed it so much, Mrs. Kennedy extended the visit a week.

SKID ROW BUM, PLAYBOY HAVE COMMON LOT

ST LOUIS (AP)—The carefree bachelor the idle retired man and the playboy who can't hold a job may have something in common with the bum on skid row.

Professor Boris M. Levinson told the American Psychological Association in a paper to be presented today the bum "has nothing driving him, has nothing to live for, and does not want to become anything."

Homeless men in the middle and upper income brackets would end up in skid row if they did not have money said Levinson. Instead, they may be found in residential hotels, retired at an early age or jumping from one job to another.

HOMELESS MEN

All homeless men lack close personal relationships, he said. Levinson said the homeless man "does not look for security, for a place to remain and stay for a long time. He prefers his freedom even if it is only freedom to starve or to beg. He wishes to do only simple, non-responsible, short-term jobs that provide spot cash. He avoids, as the plague, all jobs which may bring about self-involvement."

"It takes almost as long to learn to become homeless and to develop the necessary 'professional' attitudes as it takes to become a professional such as a physician or a psychologist."

"MUSIC MAN" IS GOOD FUN

Robert Preston's "Seventy-Six Trombones" will boom through the Majestic Theater through next Tuesday night in one of Hollywood's finest musical comedies.

Meredith Wilson's Broadway foot-thumper has lost none of its tilt and verve through transfer to the screen. And Robert Preston brings the same smash performance to the screen that marked his classic portrayal of Prof. Harold Hill, a combination Pied Piper and con artist called the music man.

"Seventy-Six Trombones" is sung by Preston as the opening gun in his boys band-swinging swindle. To stir the pride of River City's citizens, he interrupts a pageant to sing and strut his golden recollections of that glorious moment in his own youth when five of the land's greatest hands came to town.

The march is then magnificently reprised as the film's finale when Preston leads the entire town—150 bandsmen, 40 dancers, 25 principals and 500 extras—in a high-stopping, show-stopping romp.

FLOOD FIXES MEETING DATE ON WATERSHED

By JOHN KOENIG JR.
Associated Press Special Service

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Daniel J. Flood, D-Pa., today fixed Sept. 11 for a meeting of members of congress from three states to discuss strategy in support of a survey of water resource development in the Susquehanna River watershed.

Flood sent invitations to senators from Pennsylvania, New York and Maryland and to house members from congressional districts in the watershed area.

The meeting, he said, will be in the speaker's dining room at the capitol at 12:15 p.m., Sept. 11.

ARMY ENGINEERS

Representatives of the army engineers, who would conduct the survey, will be on hand to brief the congressmen.

This year's public works appropriation bill includes a $300,000 fund for initiating the Susquehanna River survey.

Flood said strategy for final passage of the bill, with particular attention to inclusion of the Susquehanna survey fund, will be discussed as well as a look into the future for continuation of the survey until completion.

FIRST ROUND

The $300,000 fund in this year's bill, Flood said, actually is the first round in obtaining a $2 million appropriation for the complete survey over a 6-year period.

The survey will look into flood control, water pollution, reforestation, irrigation, recreation potentialities, hydroelectric power possibilities, navigation and canalization.

Flood said the Susquehanna Valley is the last great remaining river valley in the United States still awaiting an over-all survey of its water resources and development potentialities.

WATERSHED SURVEY

The idea of surveying the watershed, Flood said, first was proposed in 1795 by a northeastern Pennsylvania congressman.

Through the last 100 years, he said, some work was done, but never has a comprehensive job been done on the entire river basin and its tributaries in three states.

He said plans for the project probably will follow closely in the footsteps of plans laid in recent years for future developments of the Delaware River Basin.

It took more than a score of years to achieve establishment of the Delaware River Basin Commission for development of that he added, schemes for the Susquehanna might be pushed through much more rapidly.

SAY DAMS WILL HURT ECONOMY

Predictions that construction of a series of large and small dams in Franklin County as proposed by the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers would upset the economy of the county were made at an "information meeting" held in Chambersburg Wednesday evening.

While construction costs would be met through federal funds, speakers at the meeting emphasized the economic cost to the county would be "staggering." Upward of 30,000 acres of land, much of it prime farm acreage, would be taken over for the dams resulting in a drastic reduction in the county's tax base together with an equal drastic slash in the farm income, they declared.

Speakers were Robert W. Crouse, of Dry Run, and Mrs. Margaret Kilpatrick, of Washington, a Path Valley native and owner of real estate north of Richmond Furnace.

Crouse, who had been serving as temporary secretary of an opposition group organized after the Army agency's Potomac River Basin plans were made public, told the audience of several hundred that efforts would be made to set up a permanent organization at a meeting set for next Wednesday, also at the St. John's facility. He invited all interested groups to be represented.

Bloom Bristles At Fund Attack

HARRISBURG (AP)—Republican State Chairman George I. Bloom has denounced Gov. Lawrence's latest attack on GOP fund-raising efforts as "ill-tempered, ill-considered and in extremely bad taste."

"The governor's blast, especially against the Mellon interests of Pittsburgh, is just another sign of how far and how fast the Democratic campaign is deteriorating," Bloom declared Thursday in a sharply worded statement.

Bloom's comments stemmed from remarks made by Lawrence on Wednesday criticizing the efforts of Republicans, including Frank Denton, vice president of the Mellon National Bank and Trust Co. of Pittsburgh, in planning two fund-raising dinners next month.

Bloom denied Lawrence's claim that there was a $1,000 price tag attached to the invitations extended for the two dinners—Sept. 25 at Bedford Springs and Sept. 27 at Hershey.

PUC Approves Bus Service To Carlisle

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Public Utility Commission granted a temporary approval to the Valley Transportation Co. of Lemoyne on Thursday to furnish bus service between Carlisle and Gettysburg. Final approval depends on the PUC's action on Valley's application for permanent rights on the service.

Valley seeks to replace the C and G Bus Lines, Inc., of Carlisle, which is going out of business.

In addition to the main run, Valley will continue bus service for riders on alternate routes through the Peach Glen, Aspers, Bendersville and Arendtsville Areas.

Supporting Valley's proposal to take over the lines, C and G explained it was financially unable to continue. A number of riders who objected to its service abandonment plan said at a hearing that they would be willing to use service by another line.

URGE MORE TEST BAN SESSIONS

GENEVA (AP)—The United States proposed today that the three nuclear powers continue meeting during the recess of the disarmament talks to try to work out an agreement banning nuclear tests by the end of this year.

U.S. Ambassador Arthur H. Dean told the 17-nation disarmament conference his government believes it should be possible for the American, British, Soviet nuclear subcommittee to complete this task by Nov. 1 so a treaty could become effective by Jan. 1, 1963.

The disarmament talks are to recess from Sept. 8 until Nov. 12 while the negotiators report back to the U.N. General Assembly. Western conference sources said Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily Kuznetsov told the conference his government will study the proposal for continued subcommittee meetings.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The nation's wheat farmers have voted to continue controls on their crop, but by the smallest margin in 12 such tests since 1941.

Unofficial returns from the 39 commercial wheat states where balloting in the referendum was conducted Thursday gave 161,242 for and 74,454 against marketing quotas designed to restrict production in order to reduce costly surpluses.

This was a favorable margin of 68.4 per cent. Approval by at least 66.7 per cent—two-thirds—of the growers voting was required. Last year quotas were approved by an 87.4 per cent margin. The previous low was 73.3 per cent for the 1955 crop.

Returns in 16 states fell below the two-thirds level. These included Kansas, the No. 1 wheat producing state, as well as such other major producers as Colorado and Montana.

The Pennsylvania vote in the wheat referendum was 605 "yes" and 409 "no."

The program will allot 55 million acres to farmers for planting for the 1963 crop. It also would set marketing quotas which would limit sales to production on each farm's allotment. Excess sales would be subject to a penalty tax.

LABOR BOSSES ARE DELIGHTED WITH NEW JOBS

By BARRY SCHWEID

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two members of a mutual admiration society have returned to Washington, delighted with their new, higher stations in government life. Puns and talk of filling shoes were in the air Thursday as W. Willard Wirtz and Arthur J. Goldberg met newsmen.

Goldberg is leaving President Kennedy's cabinet to replace Felix Frankfurter as an associate justice of the Supreme Court. Wirtz has been moved up from undersecretary to replace Goldberg as secretary of labor.

LOSS BOUQUETS

On their arrival from Chicago, where the two made an unsuccessful effort to head off a telegraph strike against the Chicago & North Western Railroad, the former labor lawyers tossed bouquets at each other.

Goldberg said he suggested Wirtz as a successor. The gray-haired justice-designate said he was "delighted beyond words" that Kennedy picked Wirtz.

"If Mr. Goldberg intends a pun and means to say he is delighted beyond Wirtz, he is wrong," quipped Wirtz.

OFFERS SHIRT

Wirtz said Goldberg, feeling somewhat grimy after the plane trip, donned a clean shirt just before the news conference and offered to "lend Wirtz one."

"No, Mr. Secretary," Wirtz said he replied, "I'd rather try your shoes on."

It would have been a tight squeeze. The 6-foot-1 Wirtz weighs 13, Goldberg size 9.

Wirtz said he will follow Goldberg's principles, although he remarked that new problems are always arising and a man "can never step in the same river twice."

WAS VACATIONING

Wirtz had been vacationing with his family at a mountain resort near Winchester, Va., before going to Chicago with Goldberg and getting the news there by telephone from Kennedy that he had been chosen for the Cabinet.

Resuming his vacation, he was greeted Thursday night with homemade signs manufactured by youngsters saying, "Congratz our new secretary of labor" and "No strikes with Wirtz."

Then came a late supper — a cold roast beef sandwich.

Kennedys Start Home For Holiday

RAVELLO, Italy (AP)—Jacqueline Kennedy and her daughter Caroline said goodbye to the Amalfi coast and their 11th century holiday villa today and started home to spend the Labor Day weekend with the President.

They left Rome aboard a Pan American World Airways jetliner for New York at 7:31 a.m. EST.

The Kennedy family plane, the Caroline, is to fly them on to the Quonset Point Naval Station in Rhode Island. The White House announced that President Kennedy would time his departure from Washington this afternoon to reach Quonset Point about the time his wife and daughter arrived. The family will spend the holiday weekend at Hammersmith Farm, the Newport home of Mrs. Kennedy's stepfather and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh D. Auchincloss.

The American First Lady and daughter had spent 23 days on the beautiful Amalfi coast, swimming, water skiing, yachting and mingling with the local folk. They enjoyed it so much, Mrs. Kennedy extended the visit a week.

SKID ROW BUM, PLAYBOY HAVE COMMON LOT

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The carefree bachelor, the idle retired man and the playboy who can't hold a job may have something in common with the bum on skid row.

Professor Boris M. Levinson told the American Psychological Association in a paper to be presented today the bum "has nothing driving him, has nothing to live for, and does not want to become anything."

Homeless men in the middle and upper income brackets would end up in skid row if they did not have money, said Levinson. Instead, they may be found in residential hotels, retired at an early age or jumping from one job to another.

HOMELESS MEN

All homeless men lack close personal relationships, he said. Levinson said the homeless man "does not look for security, for a place to remain and stay for a long time. He prefers his freedom even if it is only freedom to starve or to beg. He wishes to do only simple, non-responsible, short-term jobs that provide spot cash. He avoids, as the plague, all jobs which may bring about self-involvement."

"It takes almost as long to learn to become homeless and to develop the necessary 'professional' attitudes as it takes to become a professional such as a physician or a psychologist."

'Copter Helps To Capture Runaways

RED HILL, Md. (AP)—Maryland state police say a helicopter helped them stop a stolen car and arrest two men they believe fled six hours earlier from an auto loaded with untaxed whisky.

The chase got underway Thursday when a Delaware state police cruiser tried to stop a car near Middletown, five miles from the Maryland line.

LIFT AIRPORT QUARANTINES ON DIAGNOSIS

NEW YORK (AP)—Two persons suspected to have smallpox causing a quarantine of 200 persons at Idlewild Airport early today, were diagnosed later as "most likely" having chickenpox.

The new diagnosis, by U.S. Public Health Service officials, was reported by Dr. Stanley Goldstein, night supervisor at Bellevue Hospital, a few minutes after the two persons arrived there.

The 200 at Idlewild were quarantined for periods up to five hours during investigation of the suspected smallpox cases.

WORKING DIAGNOSIS

Goldstein said the Public Health Service officials gave him the working diagnosis of likely chickenpox while a Philadelphia woman and her three children—two of them with heavy rashes—were en route from the airport to the hospital.

Goldstein said he could not tell how long it would take the hospital to make a definite diagnosis.

ADDITIONAL TESTS

Goldstein said they reported later that the cases were probably chickenpox and they ordered the family to the hospital for additional tests.

The Philadelphia family was among a planeload of 132 persons arriving from Brazil.

The quarantine order covered the 122 passengers, 10 plane crew members and airport employees who had contact with those on the plane.

PASSENGERS RELEASED

All the passengers were released from quarantine by 6 a.m. They had to wait at the field until their baggage was fumigated. The Pan American World Airways jet on which they arrived also was fumigated.

The quarantine was the second smallpox investigation in the city this month. The first came after a 15-year-old boy with smallpox arrived at Idlewild Aug. 11 en route from Brazil to Canada.

Public Health Service officials reported the rash in the family of Mrs. Erecema Castiglione of Philadelphia.

EAGEN TO RULE IN REIS CASE VENUE CHANGE

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP)—State Supreme Court Justice Michael J. Eagen was expected to rule today on a petition by Lillian Reis' attorney seeking permission to argue before the full court for a change of venue in her retrial on charges of masterminding a Pottsville burglary.

Eagen heard arguments presented by Miss Reis' attorney in his chambers in the Lackawanna County Courthouse here Thursday he reserved a decision until he could consult with other members of the high court. The Supreme Court's next session convenes in Pittsburgh on Sept. 24.

Miss Reis, a Philadelphia nightclub operator, has been scheduled for retrial Sept. 10 in Schuylkill County court on the charges which stemmed from the looting of a safe at the home of wealthy Pottsville coal operator John B. Rich in August, 1959. Her first trial ended in a hung jury. Police said the theft netted nearly $500,000.

CITE SPEECHES

Atty. William J. Krencewicz of Pottsville told Eagen that one of the reasons for the request was what he called prejudicial speeches during the 1961 political campaign of Superior Court Judge G. Harold Watkins in support of Dist. Atty. Harvey W. Lightstone.

Krencewicz said the speeches attacked Miss Reis' counsel at the time, attorney John Lavelle, who also was the opponent of Lightstone in the 1961 elections. Lightstone was elected.

Those persons born between August 24 and September 23 are under the sign of Virgo, whose sign is the Virgin on the Zodiac. They are usually kind, practical, diligent people who show extreme talent for any undertaking in which details play a part or where they are called upon to help others. Their major drawback is their tendency to be perfectionists and this can lead to a lack of self-confidence that leads to over-dependence on others. MEXICO VOIDS LOREN-PONTI PROXY NUPTIAL

MILAN, Italy (AP)—A Mexican court has voided the Mexican proxy marriage of film star Sophia Loren and producer Carlo Ponti, their Italian attorney said today.

The action may save the couple from a bigamy trial in Italy.

At Juarez, Mexico, Antonio Lopez Machuca, who is Miss Loren's Mexican attorney, said no decree had been issued but that Judge Francisco Urango Munoz had advised him one would be announced today.

WORD RECEIVED

Attorney Mario Luzzati said in Milan he had received word that a court at Juarez had declared the marriage was nonexistent—that Miss Loren and Ponti had never been married.

The pair had asked for the nullification of their marriage because of Italian law, not because of romantic difficulties.

Two months ago, an investigating judge in Rome, acting as a one-man grand jury, ordered Miss Loren and Ponti to stand trial.

HAS ONE DIVORCE

Ponti has a Mexican divorce from his first wife, but Roman Catholic Italy does not recognize divorce. He was charged with bigamy. Miss Loren, who had never married before, was charged with concurrence in bigamy.

Legal sources said the charges may be dropped as a result of the Mexican court action.

Ponti, 46, and Miss Loren, 27, were married by proxy in Juarez in September 1957, three years after Ponti obtained a Mexican divorce from his first wife, Giuliana Fiastria.

CITY MUSTERS LEGAL THRUST IN RACE CASE

By DON MCKEE

ALBANY, Ga. (AP)—City officials—who told Negroes they should fight their racial battles in the courts—have mustered numerous technicalities in trying to kill the first legal thrust against segregation in Albany.

A motion by the city to throw out a desegregation suit is before U.S. Dist. Judge J. Robert Elliott. Elliott heard arguments Thursday on numerous legal points raised by the dismissal motion. Negroes have asked desegregation of parks, libraries, public recreational and travel facilities.

CITY COUNSEL

Attorney Hilliard P. Burt, counsel for the city, said the complaint failed to show a controversy between plaintiffs and defendants.

The attorney argued that complainant Dr. W. G. Anderson, an Albany Negro leader, had never tried to use any of the facilities and, therefore, has not been wronged.

Burt cited about 30 cases to back up his motion for dismissal.

CASES CITED

Constance Baker Motley of New York contended the complaint was properly offered and cited cases to support her argument. Mrs. Motley, chief counsel for the complainants, is an attorney for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

As the hearing progressed, 23 persons elected to stay in jail after their arrest four days ago for a prayer vigil at City Hall. They were among 75 jailed in the demonstration by out-of-state clergymen and church members.

About 40 clergymen and others from the Chicago area left Thursday night by chartered bus for their homes after posting $200 bonds.

Red Shipments Are Blocked By Appeal

WASHINGTON (AP)—U. S. sources said today American appeals to NATO allies to discourage Communist bloc shipments to Cuba have met with limited but generally satisfactory response.

The United States brought up the Cuban question at North Atlantic Treaty Organization Council meetings in Paris. It intends to do so again soon, in view of the new wave of Russian shipments.

A larger number of Western vessels reportedly are carrying cargoes to Cuba for the Russians. President Kennedy said Wednesday NATO should consider steps to discourage this.

world is a newly born baby. Such a tiny mass of helplessness. No one has ever been able to fathom the thoughts of this small creature, newly given the air and sunshine of a strange world.Who can foretell the future of a baby? Perhaps a future President of the United States; perhaps some great artist, scientist, business builder, or prince among men to scatter love and consideration to the four corners of the world.But what is most interesting about the baby in its crib are perhaps the talents that it holds so tightly, the gift of the great Creator, through generations of men and women. How will they be unfolded? Who will help unfold them? Will the future boy or girl reach within himself or herself and help to unfold the gifts so rare and important?Many a man or woman has developed a single talent to such a degree that he or she became great in the possession of the one wholly owned. Yet all along the streets of the cities, and the byways of life, are idlers smothering within them a dozen talents or more.Talents are really born with one. You can't distribute them as you would a prize. And you cannot secure a talent by merely wishing for it. Each of us has talents that are granted to no one else. And we are responsible for their use and life.I believe that the talents one has and which makes one the happiest to develop should be the ones to control one's life. It is better to be a fine artist than to be a poor business man, even though you may not make much money at it. One's life work should be given to the development of character, and this work should make one happy — otherwise the work is all wrong.But talents must be put to use, otherwise they shrivel, like unused muscles, or are taken from us, as though they belonged to someone else. Let us not worry about talents that we do not possess, however!Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk

By DAVE LEHER

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP)

—Coach Rip Engle, whose Penn State football team opens pre-season training Saturday, agreed today with pre-season forecasts that his Nittany Lions should be able to field a team on a par with any in the East."A great deal will depend on how the new men can fill in," said Engle. "With 20 returning lettermen, we should be able to field a first eleven on a par with any in the East. But with the schedule we've got we're going to have to have 25 to 30 good players ready to go at any time."In most pre-season forecasts, State is rated No. 1 in the East and among the top 10 teams in the nation. Despite one of the rugged college schedules, the consensus is that Engle's lads will be bowl bound again at the end of the season.63 ARE EXPECTEDSixty-three hopefuls are expected to turn out this weekend as Lions open three weeks of training prior to the first kickoff.Leading the returnees will be

Chuck Sieminski, Harrison Ros-successor to Galen Hall the pint-tories was a 30-15 triumph over Georgia Tech in the Gator Bowl at Jacksonville, Fla.Battling for the quarterback post will be Don Caum, a 166-

Liske of Plainfield, N.J., and Gary from Corning, N.Y.Engle has already solved his center problems, shifting captain-elect Joe Galardi, a guard, and eral other switches also are contemplated.TOUGH SCHEDULEMeanwhile, the Lion schedule

ORIOLES BOW TO SENATORS TIGERS LOSE

By JIM BECKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Joy was unrestrained in Baltimore when the Orioles swept five straight from the mighty New York Yankees over the weekend.

Thursday night, Washington clipped the Orioles, 3-2 for the third time in four games since the Yankee sweep.

In the only other American League game, the Chicago White Sox widened their fourth place lead to two games over the Detroit Tigers, beating them 5-4.

In the National League, third-place Cincinnati edged the first-place Los Angeles Dodgers 5-4, second-place San Francisco defeated Milwaukee 3-2, Pittsburgh beat the Chicago Cubs 5-3 and Philadelphia outslugged the New York Mets 8-7. St. Louis and Houston were not scheduled.

The Yankees, whose chances of blowing the pennant are taken seriously only in Minnesota and Southern California, open the final month's drive by entertaining the Kansas City Athletics tonight.

YANKS VS. A'S

Yankee ace Whitey Ford (13-7), will go against Ed Rakow (12-14). The pesky A's beat the Yanks three of five during the recent road trip that wound up 6-11 for the world champions, with the five Baltimore defeats tacked on the end.

The Minnesota Twins, two games back, are at Boston, with Dick Stigman (9-3) facing no-hit Bill Monbouquette (11-12).

The Los Angeles Angels, three games back despite having been written off about once a week since Memorial Day, meet Washington in two, with Ted Bowfield (8-7) and Don Lee (11-9) opposing Claude Osteen (7-10) and Steve Hamilton (3-5). The Angels next invade Yankee Stadium for a four game set, beginning with a Labor Day doubleheader.

Dave Stenhouse threw a 9-hitter for the Senators. Don Lock provided the eventual winning run with a home run in the second. Al Smith hammered a two-run homer in the eighth for the White Sox, who added an unearned run in the ninth on pitcher Terry Fox' error for the winning margin.

Eastern League

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Binghamton Trips appear destined to finish last in the Eastern League but there is a bright spot in the gloomy picture.

It's big Ken Harrelson who is on his way to winning the home run and runs batted in titles.

Harrelson belted a home run in each game of a doubleheader loss to York Thursday night to hike his league-leading total to 29 and drove in four runs to give him a front-running total of 117 RBIs.

York, winning 7-4 and 6-5 in the only games scheduled, moved into fourth place, a half game ahead of Charleston.

REDS BOUNCE DODGERS 5-4; GIANTS WIN

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Author-pitcher Jim Brosnan trudged out of the bullpen in the ninth inning Thursday night and preserved a 5-4 Cincinnati triumph over National League leading Los Angeles that kept the defending champion Reds within range of the Dodgers.

The third-place Reds led 5-0 behind Jim O'Toole's 5-hitter when the Dodgers rallied in the ninth. Three runs were in and the bases were loaded when Brosnan got the call. He struck out Duke Snider, but Maury Wills beat out a hit, making it 5-4 and leaving the bases loaded. Jim Gilliam stepped up, worked the count to 3-2, then lifted a soft fly to center field.

GIANTS WIN

The triumph, salvaging the last of the three-game series, left the Reds 5 1/2 games behind the Dodgers, who are 2 1/2 in front of second-place San Francisco. The Giants closed ground as Jack Sanford posted his 13th straight victory, 3-2 over Milwaukee, on home runs by Willie Mays, Orlando Cepeda and Jim Davenport.

Pittsburgh clipped the Chicago Cubs 5-3, but again had to call on relief ace Elroy Face—who responded with his 21st save. Chicago second baseman Ken Hubbs played errorless ball for the 72nd consecutive game—one game short of Bobby Doerr's record.

Philadelphia used Don Demeter's grand slam homer and a run-scoring single by Roy Sievers for five runs in the eighth to beat New York 8-7, the Mets using five pitchers in the inning and tying a major league record.

SCORE 4 IN FIRST

The Reds pounded on Dodger starter Stan Williams (12-9) for four runs in the first inning. Jerry Lynch's double drove in the run that proved to be decisive in the fifth.

Mays and Cepeda hammered consecutive homers in the first while Davenport connected in the sixth for the eventual game-winner off Spahn (14-12), who had won six in a row. Sanford (19-6) had a one-hitter until the seventh when Frank Bolling and Spahn hit homers. The Giants used five relievers.

Donn Clendenon paced the Pirates' offensive with a homer and two doubles, driving in four runs. The Phillies' uprising tagged Robert G. Miller (2-2) with the defeat while giving the triumph to Jack Baldschun (8-7).

Nimrods Can Hunt Doves On Saturday

HARRISBURG (AP)—The first 1962-63 hunting season opens in Pennsylvania Saturday on mourning doves.

Hunting will be allowed from noon to sunset, daily, except Sunday, through Nov. 9.

The daily bag limit is 12. Hunters may have no more than 24 of the birds in their possession after the second day.

Mansfield Coach Takes New Position

MANSFIELD, Pa. (AP)—Edward Stelmack, football coach and dean of men at Mansfield State College for the past seven years, resigned Thursday to accept a new post as guidance director at Pennsylvania State University. Stelmack is a native of Johnstown and a graduate of St. Francis of Loretto College. Before coming to Mansfield he was football coach and athletic director at Mahanoy Joint High School in Dalmatia, Northumberland County.

OPEN TENNIS MEET TODAY

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP)—Roy Emerson, the forgotten man of Australian tennis and generally in the shadow of his Davis Cup teammate, Rod Laver, today meets Pancho Gonzales, the sometime-playing captain of the Mexican Davis Cup team, in the first round of the national tennis championship.

Emerson, the defending singles champion, got a big break when Nicola Pietrangeli of Italy, seeded seventh, scratched. Now the only player in his quarter who might make things difficult is Mike Sangster of Britain.

Chuck McKinley of St. Ann, Mo. and Trinity (Tex.) University, America's hope for the title, also was scheduled to play his first round match. He drew Bob Bowditch of Worcester, Mass. Laver and fourth seeded Rafael Osuna of Mexico get into action Saturday.

In the women's division, the top match of the day was between Mrs. Karen Hantze Susman of San Diego, Calif. and Justina Bricksa of St. Louis. This was a battle of Wightman Cup teammates.

Margaret Smith of Australia, who has dominated the women's tennis all year, and Mrs. Susman are the favorites to advance to the final. Mike Smith drew a first-round bye.

GOLF TOURNEY IS WON 2 UP

SHAWNEE, ON. DELAWARE, Pa. (AP)—Dick Weyand, Bloomfield Hills Mich., and Bob Schmid, Winnetka, Ill., won the 17th annual Bill Waite Memorial Golf Tournament Thursday by defeating Buddy Lutz, Reading, Pa., and George Webb, Detroit, 2 up at Shawnee Country Club.

Weyand, a post-graduate student at Cornell, and Schmid, of Illinois University, took over the lead on the 10th hole when Schmid sank a 20-foot putt for a bird. He also had a 30-footer on the 13th.

It was questionable whether Weyand would be able to continue after suffering a pinched muscle in the small of the back on the third tee, but after medical attention, he made it.

Chris Carr, Williamsport, N.Y., who was qualifying medalist with a four under par 68, and Ed Keating, Corning, N.Y., defeated Gen. J. B. Montgomery, USAF Ret., Westfield, N.J., and Steve Berrian, Rutherford, N.J., 2 and 1, to win the Old Masters Tournament for players over 50.

COACH FINED $100

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Coach Pete Whisenand of the Cincinnati Reds was fined $100 Thursday and suspended for three days by National League President Warren Giles.

SANDERS AND NICKLAUS TOP NATIONAL OPEN

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Doug Sanders, winner of three tournaments and among the top finishers in nine others, and National Open champion Jack Nicklaus headed the field in the $35,000 Dallas Open today.

The tournament started with Sanders and Nicklaus favorites for the $5,300 first money but with Earl Stewart, the home pro who won it last year, considered a very strong possibility.

Short-swinging Doug is the hottest player at this time, having won the last two tournaments. Nicklaus was eyed because of his great putting, since skill on the greens will be at a premium. They are not in very good shape.

Eleven players who have won tournaments this year and five of the 10 top money-winners were competing. The pros were talking about 276 or 277 winning the 72-hole event that runs through Monday. Stewart thought 275 might take the title. He won it with 278 last year.

Arnold Palmer, the biggest winner in golf, is not playing here.

PRO TEAMS ARE WINDING UP TRAINING PLAY

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

All National Football League clubs take their next-to-last licks in exhibition play this weekend.

And it's the last chance for the American Football League teams, who begin regular season play next weekend, with Denver and Oakland meeting tonight in Stockton, Calif., and champion Houston playing the Dallas Texans in Miami, Fla.

Saturday afternoon, San Diego entertains the New York Titans while Buffalo is at Boston Saturday night rounding out the AFL activity.

There are five NFL games Saturday night, with the Cleveland Browns (3-0) playing the Los Angeles Rams (2-1) in Los Angeles; the Dallas Cowboys (0-3) taking on San Francisco (2-1) at Sacramento, Calif.; the Detroit Lions (1-1) playing the St. Louis Cards (1-1) in Omaha, Neb.; Philadelphia's Eagles (2-1) facing Pittsburgh (1-2) at Hershey, Pa., and two winless clubs, Chicago (0-3) and Washington (0-3) tangle in Norfolk, Va.

Sunday afternoon, the Baltimore Colts (3-0) and Minnesota Vikings (0-3) play in the Twin Cities, while the New York Giants (1-1-1) return to the scene of their Joy was unrestrained in Baltimore when the Orioles swept five straight from the mighty New York Yankees over the weekend.

Thursday night, Washington clipped the Orioles, 3-2 for the third time in four games since the Yankee sweep.

In the only other American League game, the Chicago White Sox widened their fourth place lead to two games over the Detroit Tigers, beating them 5-4.

In the National League, third-place Cincinnati edged the first-place Los Angeles Dodgers 5-4, second-place San Francisco defeated Milwaukee 3-2, Pittsburgh beat the Chicago Cubs 5-3 and Philadelphia outslug the New York Mets 8-7. St. Louis and Houston were not scheduled.

The Yankees, whose chances of blowing the pennant are taken seriously only in Minnesota and Southern California, open the final month's drive by entertaining the Kansas City Athletics tonight.

YANKS VS. A'S

Yankee ace Whitey Ford (13-7), will go against Ed Rakow (12-14). The pesky A's beat the Yanks three of five during the recent road trip that wound up 6-11 for the home champions, with the five Baltimore defeats tacked on the end.

The Minnesota Twins, two games back, are at Boston, with Dick Stigman (9-3) facing no-hit Bill Monbouquette (11-12).

The Los Angeles Angels, three games back despite having been written off about once a week since Memorial Day, meet Washington in two, with Ted Bowsfield (8-7) and Don Lee (11-9) opposing Claude Osteen (7-10) and Steve Hamilton (3-5). The Angels next invade Yankee Stadium for a four game set beginning with a Labor Day doubleheader.

Dave Stenhouse threw a 9-hitter for the Senators. Don Lock provided the eventual winning run with a home run in the second.

Al Smith hammered a two-run homer in the eighth for the White Sox, who added an unearned run in the ninth on pitcher Terry Fox' error for the winning margin.

Eastern League

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Binghamton Trips appear destined to finish last in the Eastern League but there is a bright spot in the gloomy picture.

It's big Ken Harrelson who is on his way to winning the home run and runs batted in titles. Harrelson belted a home run in each game of a doubleheader loss to York Thursday night to hike his league-leading total to 29 and drove in four runs to give him a iron-running total of 117 RBIs.

York, winning 7-4 and 6-5 in the only games scheduled, moved into fourth place, a half game ahead of Charleston.

Dean Robbins was the batting star for York in the first game, knocking in five runs with a

GIANTS WIN

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Author-pitcher Jim Brosnan trudged out of the bullpen in the ninth inning Thursday night and preserved a 5-4 Cincinnati triumph over National League leading Los Angeles that kept the defending champion Reds within range of the Dodgers.

The third-place Reds led 5-0 behind Jim O'Toole's 5-hitter when the Dodgers rallied in the ninth. Three runs were in and the bases were loaded when Brosnan got the call. He struck out Duke Snider, but Maury Wills beat out a hit, making it 5-4 and leaving the bases loaded. Jim Gilliam stepped up, worked the count to 3-2, then lifted a soft fly to center field.

GIANTS WIN

The triumph, salvaging the last of the three-game series, left the Reds 5½ games behind the Dodgers, who are 2½ in front of second-place San Francisco. The Giants closed ground as Jack Sanford posted his 13th straight victory, 3-2 over Milwaukee, on home runs by Willie Mays, Orlando Cepeda and Jim Davenport.

Pittsburgh clipped the Chicago Cubs 5-3, but again had to call on relief ace Elroy Face—who responded with his 21st save. Chicago second baseman Ken Hubbs played errorless ball for the 72nd consecutive game — one game short of Bobby Doerr's record.

Philadelphia used Don Demeter's grand slam homer and a run-scoring single by Roy Sievers for five runs in the eighth to beat New York 8-7, the Mets using five pitchers in the inning and tying a major league record.

SCORE 4 IN FIRST

The Reds pounced on Dodger starter Stan Williams (12-9) for four runs in the first inning. Jerry Lynch's double drove in the run that proved to be decisive in the fifth.

Mays and Cepeda hammered consecutive homers in the first while Davenport connected in the sixth for the eventual game-winner off Spahn (14-12), who had won six in a row. Sanford (19-6) had a one-hitter until the seventh when Frank Bolling and Spahn hit homers. The Giants used five relievers.

Donna Clendenon paced the Pirates' offense with a homer and two doubles, driving in four runs. The Phillies' uprising tagged Robert G. Miller (2-2) with the defeat while giving the triumph to Jack Baldschun (8-7).

OPEN TENNIS
MEET TODAY

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) — Roy Emerson, the forgotten man of Australian tennis and generally in the shadow of his Davis Cup teammate Rod Laver, today meets Pancho Gonzales, the sometime-playing captain of the Mexican Davis Cup team, in the first round of the national tennis championship.

Emerson, the defending singles champion, got a big break when Nicola Pietrangeli of Italy, seeded seventh, scratched. Now the only player in his quarter who might make things difficult is Mike Sangster of Britain.

Chuck McKinley of St. Ann, Mo. and Trinity (Tex.) University, America's hope for the title, also was scheduled to play his first round match. He drew Bob Bowditch of Worcester, Mass. Laver and fourth-seeded Rafael Osuna of Mexico get into action Saturday.

In the women's division, the top match of the day was between Mrs. Karen Hantze Susman of San Diego, Calif. and Justina Bricka of St. Louis. This was a battle of Wightman Cup teammates.

Margaret Smith of Australia, who has dominated the women's tennis all year, and Mrs. Susman are the favorites to advance to the final. Miss Smith drew a first-round bye.

GOLF TOURNEY

SHAWNEE - ON - DELAWARE, Pa. (AP)—Dick Weyand, Bloomfield Hills, Mich., and Bob Schmid, Winnetka, Ill., won the 17th annual Bill Waite Memorial Golf Tournament Thursday by defeating Buddy Lutz, Reading, Pa., and George Webb, Detroit, 2 up at Shawnee Country Club.

Weyand, a post-graduate student at Cornell, and Schmid, of Illinois University, took over the lead on the 10th hole when Schmid sank a 20-foot putt for a bird. He also had a 30-footer on the 13th.

It was questionable whether Weyand would be able to continue after suffering a pinched muscle in the small of the back on the third tee, but after medical attention, he made it.

Chris Carr, Williamsport, N.Y., who was qualifying medalist with a four under par 68, and Ed Keating, Corning, N.Y., defeated Gene J. B. Montgomery USAF Ret., Westfield, N.J., and Steve Berian, Rutherford, N.J., 2 and 1, to win the Old Masters Tournament for players over 50.

The $50,000 added Jerome Stakes at Aqueduct is racing's top week-end event.

The Jerome, a mile affair for 3-year-olds, will have a field that includes Fred W. Hooper's much-traveled Admiral's Voyage, Brandywine Stable's Preakness winner Greek Money, George A. Pope's Kentucky Derby winner Decidedly, Townsend B. Martin's unpredictable Sunrise County, and possibly Mrs. Moody Jolley's Ridan.

If Ridan goes, he will tote top weight of 127 pounds and will swell the field to 13.

A couple of $30,000 added grass course stakes and Del Mar's Debutante highlight the rest of the Saturday card. Arlington offers the Laurence Armour Memorial for 3-year-olds over a mile and one-sixteenth of grass, while Atlantic City's grass test is the Kelly-Olympic Handicap at a mile and an eighth. The Debutante at Del Mar is for 2-year-old fillies at 6 furlongs.

TALENTS

One of the wonder sights of the world is a newly born baby. Such a tiny mass of helplessness. No one has ever been able to fathom the thought of this small creature, newly given the air and sunshine of a strange world.

Who can foretell the future of a baby? Perhaps a future President of the United States; perhaps some great artist, scientist, business builder, or prince among men to scatter love and consideration to the four corners of the world.

But what is most interesting about the baby in its crib are perhaps the talents that it holds so lightly, the gift of the great Creator, through generations of men and women. How will they be unfolded? Who will help unfold them? Will the future boy or girl reach within himself or herself and help to unfold the gifts so rare and important?

Many a man or woman has developed a single talent to such a degree that he or she became great in the possession of the one, wholly owned. Yet all along the streets of the cities, and the byways of life, are idlers smothering within them a dozen talents or more.

Talents are really born with one. You can't distribute them as you would a prize. And you cannot secure a talent by merely wishing for it. Each of us has talents that are granted to no one else. And we are responsible for their use and life.

I believe that the talents one has and which makes one the happiest to develop should be the ones to control one's life. It is better to be a fine artist than to be a poor business man, even though you may not make much money at it. One's life work should be given to the development of character, and this work should make one happy — otherwise the work is all wrong.

But talents must be put to use, otherwise they shrivel, like unused muscles, or are taken from us, as though they belonged to someone else. Let us not worry about talents that we do not possess, however!

11 AREAS IN NEED OF WATER

HARRISBURG (AP)—Drought conditions have forced at least 11 Pennsylvania communities to resort to emergency water supplies, reports the State Health Department.

Department aides said Thursday the 11 communities were granted emergency water permits June 29 after reporting record low water levels.

The communities include: Independence Twp., Washington County; Rayne Twp., Indiana County; Marysville, Perry County; Roullette Twp., Potter County; Delaware Water Gap; Shillington; Canoe Twp., Indiana County; Ebensburg; Blythe Twp., Schuylkill County; Saxton, Bedford County; Perry Twp., Snyder County.

They were authorized to seek emergency supplies in springs, lakes, wells or streams other than those normally used.

The permits were issued for 90 to 120 days. They require that the emergency supplies be adequately treated and that tests be made three times daily on the chlorine content. Bacteriological analyses also must be made daily, if no filtration is used.

BOY IS KILLED

CHESTER PA. (AP)—Richard Boyd, 15, of Ogden, was killed Thursday when he dived into Chester Creek and struck a rock beneath the surface of the water.

IMPROVEMENT

How many years of mud and slime
Before man started to climb?

How many ages long were spent
In that first bleak environment

Before man dared to quit his
And his environment improve?

Perhaps with but a single bound
He vaulted up to higher ground.

Then stopped and stretched his hand to aid
The weak, the timid and afraid.

Still dreaming dreams, man's strength is spent
In bettering his environment.

Still slowly is improvement made,
Still do the timid and afraid.

Wait for the daring leader who Shall bridge for them the old and new.

NITTANY LION MAY BE BEST TEAM IN EAST

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP)—

Coach Rip Engle, whose Penn State football team opens pre-season training Saturday, agreed today with pre-season forecasts that his Nittany Lions should be able to field a team on a par with any in the East.

"A great deal will depend on how the new men can fill in," said Engle. "With 20 returning lettermen, we should be able to field a first eleven on a par with any in the East. But with the schedule we've got we're going to have to have 25 to 30 good players ready to go at any time."

In most pre-season forecasts, State is rated No. 1 in the East and among the top 10 teams in the nation. Despite one of the rugged college schedules, the consensus is that Engle's lads will be bowl bound again at the end of the season.

63 ARE EXPECTED

Sixty-three hopefuls are expected to turn out this weekend as Lions open three weeks of training prior to the first kickoff.

Leading the returnees will be halfbacks Roger Kochman and Al Gursky, ends Dave Robinson and

GALEN HALL GONE

For one thing, he must find a successor to Galen Hall the pint-sized field general who led Penn State to an 8-3 record last year and the Lambert Trophy, emblematic of college football supremacy in the East. One of the State victories was a 30-15 triumph over Georgia Tech in the Gator Bowl at Jacksonville, Fla.

Battling for the quarterback post will be Don Caum, a 166-pounder from Harrisburg, Pete Liske of Plainfield, N.J., and Gary Wydman, a converted halfback from Corning, N.Y.

Engle has already solved his center problems, shifting captain-elect Joe Galardi, a guard, and Ralph Baker, an end, to fill the vacancies left by the graduation of Bill Saul and Jay Hoffman. Several other switches also are contemplated.

TOUGH SCHEDULE

A Bit Of History About Early Settlers

By B. F. M. MacPHERSON

THE BOYD-MCDONOUGH FAMILY

This genealogical and historical study of the McClellan family burial ground is continued today and the last three graves to be considered are located in the last row (east) and lie along the stone wall that encloses the plot on three sides.

The grave in the northeast corner is marked by a black slate stone which bears the following inscription:

17. "Here lies the body — of Henry McDonald — who departed this — life the 8 of — May A.D., 1758. Aged — 57 years."

Just why Henry McDonald was buried in the McClellan family burial ground is a mystery. True — he was a resident of Cumberland Township and his lands, according to records in the Pennsylvania Land Office, were located near as distance was considered in those days, the McClellan plantation. But — was Henry McDonald related by blood or marriage, to the McClellans? The answer to this may never be known with any degree of accuracy. Are other members of the McDonald family buried here? That is quite possible for there is space around Henry McDonald's grave for at least five other burials. Others may be interred here in unmarked graves.

SOUGHT REFUGE

To give the genealogy of Henry McDonald's immediate family it is necessary to go back to the "old country" — to Northern Ireland, where so many of the Scotch Highlanders found refuge before coming to America. Here the McDonalds and Boyds lived for a time — neighbors and friends. Somewhat later members of the two families came to America together. A brief outline of the two clans will throw some light on their relationship.

William (1) Boyd was born in 1700 in the "North of Ireland" and died September 1767 in what is now Cumberland Township, Adams County, Pennsylvania. He was buried in the Upper Marsh Creek Presbyterian Churchyard (better known as "Black's Graveyard") and his grave is marked. In his will, which was made September 8, 1767, and entered to probate October 1, 1767, William (1) Boyd mentions the following members of his family:

1. Wife — Margaret Boyd (married to William (1) Boyd about 1726 in Ireland — died after 1767 — buried in Black's Graveyard in a grave that is now unmarked).

2. Sons — John Boyd, James Boyd, James Carley Boyd, Moses Boyd, William Boyd, Samuel Boyd, and Robert Boyd.

3. Daughters — Isabella Boyd and Margaret Boyd.

Executors — wife, Margaret Boyd, and son, Moses Boyd.

Witnesses — Joseph Morrison and Robert Long.

James (2) Boyd, the son of William (1) and Margaret Boyd, was born in Northern Ireland and came to America with other members of his family early in the 18th century and settled on what was at that time the far western frontier — on Marsh Creek in the present Adams County, Pennsylvania.

MARRIES WIDOW

James (2) Boyd was married in 1759 or 1769 to Margaret McDonald, the widow of Henry McDonald, late of Cumberland Township, who died in 1758. According to a family tradition the McDonalds came to America with the Boyds and the two clans were friends of long standing. Probably both attended the Upper Marsh Creek Presbyterian Church — although it is possible that the McDonalds were Covenanters as were the Dunwoodys and other families buried in the McClellan family burial ground.

Henry McDonald's will was made May 10, 1758, and entered to probate the same year. In the document the following members of Henry McDonald's family are mentioned.

1. Wife — Margaret McDonald.
2. Sons — John McDonald, Joseph McDonald and Henry McDonald Jr.

3. Daughters — Elizabeth McDonald, Mary McDonald, Ann McDonald and Jean McDonald.
Executrix — wife, Margaret McDonald

At the time of their father's death all the children of Henry and Margaret McDonald were minors. In 1773 and 1778, according to the records in the York County Courthouse, James Boyd and Margaret McDonald Boyd settled the estate of Henry McDonald in Orphan's Court and sold "the lands of Henry McDonald." The seven children were all probably of age by this time.

UNMARKED GRAVES

James (2) and Margaret (McDonald) Boyd were, according to the tax records, living in Cumberland Township, in what is now Adams County, Pennsylvania, in 1772 and in 1778. Both are probably buried in the Upper Marsh Creek Churchyard in graves that are now unmarked. There is a possibility, however, that Margaret (McDonald) Boyd is interred beside her first husband in the McClellan family burial ground in an unmarked grave.

At the present time there is no further data available pertaining to the Boyd-McDonald families.

About 15 feet from the grave of Henry McDonald, in the same row along the east fence, is the grave of Eleanor Kincaid, the wife of Robert T. Kincaid. The old black slate stone at the grave of Eleanor Kincaid was "dug out" (only about a third of it was visible above ground) about 10 years ago and for the first time "in many a day" the entire inscription was exposed to view.

18. "Here lies the body — of Elinor Kincaid — wife to Robert T. Kincaid — who departed this — life July ye 25th, A.D., — 1768. Aged 39 years."

Elinor Kincaid is truly a "lady of mystery." Only a few records can be found pertaining to the Kincaid family "of Marsh Creek." There is only one tombstone, still in existence, in what is now Adams County, bearing that name. Undoubtedly others of the family died while living in this section and are probably buried in the McClellan family graveyard in unmarked graves — but — no grave-stones remain to tell of their death and burial. Eleanor (or Elinor) Kincaid is the lone representative of her family in Adams County, Pennsylvania.

The notes on the Kincaid family will be continued in this column next week.

The POWER of FAITH By WOODI ISHMAEL

Because of the power of his faith, Sir Thomas More defied his king.

As Lord Chancellor he tried to protect the laws of the church against the erratic behavior of King Henry VIII. Finally he resigned his state post in 1532, siding with the Pope in a dispute over Henry's right to divorce his wife, Catherine of Aragon.

Sir Thomas refused to sign the Act of Supremacy which established the Church of England, with the king as its temporal head, and for this he was convicted of treason and sentenced to death. On July 6, 1535, he was beheaded.

More's dignity and good humor abided until the last. On mounting the scaffold, he is reputed to have said to his executioner:

"Assist me up, Lieutenant. In coming down, I will shift for myself."

STEVENAGE, England (AP)—

Two-year old Catherine Burton watched birds swoop around her nursery window and decided to try flying for herself.

She plunged 18 feet to a concrete path Thursday, but a clothesline broke her fall. Cathy told her mother: "I only wanted to fly like the pigeons."

The hospital reported Cathy had minor internal injuries.

EMPLOYMENT OFF 35,800

HARRISBURG (AP)—Midsummer vacations and the prolonged drought helped cut an estimated 35,800 people from Pennsylvania's employment rolls between mid-June and mid-July.

A. Allen Sulcove, state secretary of labor and industry, reported Thursday that total employment fell to 4,312,900 during that period.

However, he added, the overall decline was about normal.

Only farm employment, which dropped by 13,500, showed significantly more than the usual seasonal decrease, Sulcove said. He blamed the drop on the prolonged drought plaguing Pennsylvania.

Non-farm employment dropped 22,300—appreciably less than the usual seasonal change from June to July.

PHILLY PROBE WILL CONTINUE DESPITE PLEA

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Judge Eugene V. Alessandrini, who ordered a grand jury investigation into alleged corruption in City Hall, says the probe will continue regardless of how another Common Pleas Court rules on a taxpayer's suit seeking to block it.

"It is clearly my duty to see that the order of this court is carried out until the final word is spoken by the Supreme Court," Alessandrini said Thursday night several hours after the taxpayers' suit was heard by a special panel of common pleas court judges.

The three judges took the suit under advisement. Their decision is expected to be announced next Wednesday or Thursday. The grand jury is scheduled to begin hearing testimony Tuesday.

Some of the questioning by the special panel of judges indicated judicial doubt of Alessandrini's authority to convene the jury and to name a special prosecutor.

OTHER ISSUES

Meanwhile, there were these other developments in the probe: —It was disclosed identical threatening notes were sent to 12 members of the special grand jury. The Philadelphia Inquirer said the letters were printed in large strokes on 5-by-8 inch stationery and said: "Grand Juror U Serve And U'll Be Sorry." Most of the copies had "U'll Be Sorry" underlined in red and bore the initials "DCC" as a signature, the newspaper said. Two grand jurors who received the notes said they will ask to be excused from jury duty for health reasons.

A five-man city council committee, whose investigation of assistant grand jury prosecutor F. Hastings Griffin Jr., was blocked by an order from Alessandrini, said it would appear today before Alessandrini to defend what it termed its right to make the inquiry.

HARRISBURG (AP)—Edward R. Simmons, long-time welfare leader in York, took over today as a new field representative for the Pennsylvania Human Relations Commission. Simmons was named to the $5,529-a-year post Thursday.

18 Lose Lives On State Turnpike During August

By VINCENT P. CAROCCI

HARRISBURG (AP)—Eighteen persons have lost their lives on the Pennsylvania Turnpike during the month of August—only one below the monthly high recorded on the toll road in 1955, a grim 19.

But there is more to this story than the stark statistics which make the headlines. What caused these accidents? Could they have been avoided?

The answer to the first question is listed boldly and succinctly on the turnpike's accident chart. It reads this way:

Speed and sleep; driving too fast for conditions; blowouts; inattentive driver; sleep, speed and drink; sleep; blowout; speed; lost control of car; elderly operator; defective equipment.

Could they have been avoided?

CITES REASON

The Turnpike Commission feels they could have been if the operator had taken the proper precaution with his auto; or had not pushed himself past his point of physical endurance; or had been more attentive to his driving.

The commission says human errors cause the great majority of accidents.

Take the case of four men from Maryland driving early in the morning along the Northeast Extension for a visit to Pennsylvania. Two of them are dead today, killed when their car left the road about 10 miles north of Allentown.

A subsequent investigation revealed they had been drinking before they began their drive. Investigators estimate they had to be traveling over 80 miles an hour to reach the point of the accident from the time they entered the turnpike.

OTHER ACCIDENT

The time they entered the turnpike was marked on their toll ticket.

Or what about the woman who was killed outside of Pittsburgh when her car crashed into an embankment and roared into flames.

The investigation revealed she had called her mother in New York telling her she intended to stop for the night in Ohio. The car was shimmying a bit, she said, but not enough to prevent her from reaching an Ohio motel.

So it goes: The four Marines who were killed earlier this year when a car with bald tires skidded into theirs on a rain-soaked road; the three college students who were killed because of poor tires on a wet road. The driver's father had sent him money for new tires. A new tire was found in the spare stock in the trunk.

SEND ROCKET ALOFT

WALLOPS ISLAND, Va. (AP)—Space agency scientists sent a four-stage Scout rocket aloft today in an experiment aimed at learning what kind of heat shields are needed on space vehicles returning to earth at speeds of about 18,000 miles an hour.

Fired about 80 miles high, it was expected to land in the Atlantic about 100 miles east of Bermuda. There was no attempt to recover the payload.

"Be As Little Children And Enter Kingdom," Says Minister

"ON ENTERING THE KINGDOM LIFE."

Text: "Except Ye Be Converted And Become as Little Children, Ye Shall Not Enter Into the Kingdom of Heaven." Matthew 18:3

By REV. DR. N. S. WOLF

Everyone is familiar and impressed with the place assigned to children in the Christian religion. Though Jesus did not give much teaching on this matter, what He gave is adequate for all needs. Because of the importance of the Jews attached to religious teaching, both by parents and in the synagogue, as well as because of the self-evident necessity that parents "bring up their children in the way they should go," and because of the very nature of religion—that to be understood and lived it must be both taught and lived by parents if it is to become a living factor in child life.

The injunction throughout Scripture is given, in one form or another, to parents to perform this most necessary obligation. No more impressive commandment can be found than that issued to the children of Israel in the days of Moses:

CHRISTIAN PRECEPT

"These words that I command thee this day shall be in thine heart, and thou shalt teach them diligently unto thy children, and shall talk of them when thou sittest in thine house, and when thou walkest by the way, and when thou liest down and when thou risest up." This has continued to be the Christian precept, for parent and for church, through the ages.

But what is of importance, in connection with the reception which Jesus gave to little children, despite the rebuke His disciples administered to those who brought them, is the manner in which He not only turned the rebuke against the fault finders, but at the same time turned the occasion in the direction of teaching the basic requirement which must be met if any hope for adults is to be entertained of sharing the kingdom of God. It is to this point that our meditation is especially directed. We cannot, in so brief a space, do much more than indicate the salient points—they are these: "Be converted;" "become as little children;" and "enter the kingdom of Heaven."

KINGDOM OF GOD

"The Kingdom of Heaven" or "of God" is a term forever issuing from the lips of Jesus. Its nature and scope can be discovered only by a careful perusal of the Scriptures and is the rule of God; hence an eternal, all-embracing sway of authority and power, both over the physical and the spiritual realms. But the point of reference to Jesus's teachings is distinctly to the soul or spiritual aspect of man's existence, and this in spite of every contrary opinion or pronouncement of unbelievers, for whom the idea of God is entertained as little more, if not exactly, a myth, and man is, to all intents and purposes, "the captain of his destiny."

POSITIVE DECLARATION

Over against all such attitudes stands Jesus, issuing the positive declaration which, of course sets forth the Kingdom of God as a reality, that the children of natural birth are not born into this Kingdom, nor is there any hope of them becoming citizens there, unless they come by the way of "becoming as little children." Jesus prescribes the way to entry into the Kingdom in no speculative manner, but with a positiveness which men disregard at great peril.

The first movement towards becoming Kingdom citizens is that of "being converted." Without dwelling on the many, often perverse, conceptions of this wonderful experience, let us think of it as a complete reversal of the trends of mortal life. No better insight into this can be found than that given us by St. Paul:—"If any man be in Christ, he is a new creature, old things have passed away, behold, all things are become new." Now, such an experience, such a turning, is never accomplished by the natural man; it is the gift of God, and is conferred on all who are won to Him by the power of Love Divine. Such love, as was displayed by the Savior, in all His works and ways, and finally on Calvary, is God's magnetic power to draw all men unto Himself. No man converts himself. He either turns to the God of love as the flower turns to the sun, or he remains a child of darkness.

"TURNING TO GOD" It is this "turning to God," which is described by Jesus as "the new birth," which begets the process called for in the text—"becoming as little children." Doubtless, it is at this point that much thinking of men rebels and recoils, as though Jesus were suggesting that they become "childish" instead of "childlike." Though, of course there are some who deem Christian faith as a childish matter, unworthy of high thinking and action. This is by no means the case.

The point of reference here must be recognized. It has nothing whatsoever to do with the whole realm of man's achievements on the purely human level. It does not refer to scientific, educational or social aspects of life, though all of these, and all others, may and ought to be, conducted within the realm of the life of "children of God," as indeed they may be, and by some great souls have been. The reference here is entirely to the relations of a human soul to God. And these relations are begun and enlarged only by the right use of the revelation which God has made of Himself. And the fullness of this relationship is adequately described by "childlikeness."

Consider the ready faith, the simple wholehearted dependence, the happy responses and the loveableness of a proper child towards devoted parents. Exactly such qualities of soul can and must be implanted—even will be implanted—when genuine conversion has taken place. This is a Christian's relationship to God. Out of it are sure to be born noble and life-enriching ideals of human relationships human endeavors and achievements, until, like the great, but humble astronomer, as he scanned and measured the Heavens, joyfully confessed—"O God, I do but walk in Thy footsteps."

Let this be each one's chief desire—to be but a child of God, and being that, all of this life will fall into its God-approved and life-satisfying grooves.

SUSIE'S IDEAS

SUGGESTION BOX

Do you suppose Susie wants an addition for her doll family? Or ice cream and cake for supper tonight? Or a new pair of fancy black patent-leather shoes?

I'm Susie's mother, but I wouldn't know! You'd have to have seven league boots to keep pace with her active little mind!

For instance, she'd overheard us discussing our new family policy of having a suggestion box. Susie was determined to get into the act too. It is typical of her, typical of our family. We enjoy doing things together. We believe in unity in work, in play, and in prayer.

We center our family activities about the Church. The children go to Church School—Susie can hardly wait for each Sunday morning—and my husband is active in the Men's Club. I am president of the woman's group in our parish. Yet—it does take a lot of time and effort. But I am never happier than when I am doing church work, because I know how truly worthwhile it is.

Don't forget that your church needs workers too! Just as you need the Church!

Consider the ready faith, the simple wholehearted dependence, the happy responses and the loveableness of a proper child towards devoted parents. Exactly such qualities of soul can and must be implanted — even will be implanted — when genuine conversion has taken place. This is a Christian's relationship to God. Out of it are sure to be born noble and life-enriching ideals of human relationships, human endeavors and achievements, until, like the great, but humble astronomer, as he scanned and measured the Heavens, joyfully confessed — "O God, I do but walk in Thy footsteps."

Let this be each one's chief desire — to be but a child of God, and being that, all of this life will fall into its God-approved and life-satisfying grooves.

SUSIE'S IDEAS

Do you suppose Susie wants an addition for her doll family? Or ice cream and cake for supper tonight? Or a new pair of fancy black patent-leather shoes?

I'm Susie's mother, but I wouldn't know! You'd have to have seven league boots to keep apace with her active little mind!

For instance, she'd overheard us discussing our new family policy of having a suggestion box. Susie was determined to get into the act too. It is typical of her, typical of our family. We enjoy doing things together. We believe in unity in work, in play, and in prayer.

We center our family activities about the Church. The children go to Church School—Susie can hardly wait for each Sunday morning—and my husband is active in the Men's Club. I am president of the woman's group in our parish. Yet—it does take a lot of time and effort. But I am never happier than when I am doing church work, because I know how truly worthwhile it is.

Don't forget that your church needs workers too! Just as you need the Church!

A Bit Of History About Early Settlers

By B. F. M. MacPHERSON

THE BOYD-MCDONOUGH FAMILY

This genealogical and historical study of the McClellan family burial ground is continued today and the last three graves to be considered are located in the last row (east) and lie along the stone wall that encloses the plot on three sides.

The grave in the northeast corner is marked by a black slate stone which bears the following inscription:

17. "Here lies the body of Henry McDonough — who departed this — life the 8 of — May A.D. 1758. Aged — 37 years."

Just why Henry McDonough was buried in the McClellan family burial ground is a mystery. True — he was a resident of Cumberland Township and his lands, according to records in the Pennsylvania Land Office, were located near as distance was considered in those days, the McClellan plantation. But — was Henry McDonough related by blood or marriage, to the McClellans? The answer to this may never be known with any degree of accuracy. Are other members of the McDonough family buried here? That is quite possible for there is space around Henry McDonough's grave for at least five other burials. Others may be interred here in unmarked graves.

SOUGHT REFUGE

To give the genealogy of Henry McDonough's immediate family it is necessary to go back to the "old country" — to Northern Ireland, where so many of the Scotch Highlanders found refuge before coming to America. Here the McDonoughs and Boyds lived for a time — neighbors and friends. Somewhat later members of the two families came to America together. A brief outline of the two clans will throw some light on their relationship.

William (1) Boyd was born in 1700 in the "North of Ireland" and died September 1767 in what is now Cumberland Township, Adams County, Pennsylvania. He was buried in the Upper Marsh Creek Presbyterian Churchyard (better known as "Black's Graveyard") and his grave is marked. In his will, which was made September 8, 1767, and entered to probate October 1, 1767, William (1) Boyd mentions the following members of his family:

1. Wife — Margaret Boyd (married to William (1) Boyd about 1726 in Ireland — died after 1767 — buried in Black's Graveyard in a grave that is now unmarked).

2. Sons — John Boyd, James Boyd, James Carley Boyd, Moses Boyd, William Boyd, Samuel Boyd, and Robert Boyd.

3. Daughters — Isabella Boyd and Margaret Boyd.

Executors — wife, Margaret Boyd, and son, Moses Boyd.

Witnesses — Joseph Morrison and Robert Long.

James (2) Boyd, the son of William (1) and Margaret Boyd, was born in Northern Ireland and came to America with other members of his family early in the 18th century and settled on what was at that time the far western frontier — on Marsh Creek in the present Adams County, Pennsylvania.

MARRIES WIDOW

James (2) Boyd was married in 1759 or 1760 to Margaret McDonough, the widow of Henry McDonough, late of Cumberland Township, who died in 1758. According to a family tradition the McDonoughs came to America with the Boyds and the two clans were friends of long standing. Probably both attended the Upper Marsh Creek Presbyterian Church — although it is possible that the McDonoughs were Covenanters as were the Dunwoods and other families buried in the McClellan family burial ground.

EMMITTSBURG, MD.

Henry McDonough's will was made May 10, 1758, and entered to probate the same year. In the document the following members of Henry McDonough's family are mentioned.

1. Wife — Margaret McDonough.

2. Sons — John McDonough, Joseph McDonough and Henry McDonough Jr.

3. Daughters — Elizabeth McDonough, Mary McDonough, Ann McDonough and Jean McDonough.

Executrix — wife, Margaret McDonough.

At the time of their father's death all the children of Henry and Margaret McDonough were minors in 1773 and 1778, according to the records in the York County Courthouse, James Boyd and Margaret McDonough Boyd settled the estate of Henry McDonough in Orphan's Court and sold "The lands of Henry McDonough." The seven children were all probably of age by this time.

UNMARKED GRAVES

James (2) and Margaret (McDonough) Boyd were, according to the tax records, living in Cumberland Township, in what is now Adams County, Pennsylvania, in 1772 and in 1778. Both are probably buried in the Upper Marsh Creek Churchyard in graves that are now unmarked. There is a possibility, however, that Margaret (McDonough) Boyd is interred beside her first husband in the McClellan family burial ground in an unmarked grave.

At the present time there is no further data available pertaining to the Boyd-McDonough families.

About 15 feet from the grave of Henry McDonough, in the same row along the east fence, is the grave of Eleanor Kincaid, the wife of Robert T. Kincaid. The old black slate stone at the grave of Eleanor Kincaid was "dug out" (only about a third of it was visible above ground) about 10 years ago and for the first time "in many a day" the entire inscription was exposed to view.

18 "Here lies the body of Elinor Kincaid — wife to Robert T. Kincaid — who departed this — life July ye 25th, A.D. — 1768. Aged 39 years"

Elinor Kincaid is truly a "lady of mystery." Only a few records can be found pertaining to the Kincaid family "of Marsh Creek." There is only one tombstone, still in existence, in what is now Adams County, bearing that name. Undoubtedly others of the family died while living in this section and are probably buried in the McClellan family graveyard in unmarked graves — but — no grave-stones remain to tell of their death and burial. Eleanor (or Elinor) Kincaid is the lone representative of her family in Adams County, Pennsylvania.

The notes on the Kincaid family will be continued in this column next week.

The POWER of FAITH By WOODI ISHMAEL

Because of the power of his faith, Sir Thomas More defied his king.

As Lord Chancellor he tried to protect the laws of the church against the erratic behavior of King Henry VIII. Finally he resigned his state post in 1532, siding with the Pope in a dispute over Henry's right to divorce his wife, Catherine of Aragon.

Sir Thomas refused to sign the Act of Supremacy which established the Church of England, with the king as its temporal head, and for this he was convicted of treason and sentenced to death. On July 6, 1535, he was beheaded.

More's dignity and good humor abided until the last. On mounting the scaffold, he is reputed to have said to his executioner:

"Assist me up, lieutenant. In coming down, I will shift for myself."

The hospital reported Cathy had minor internal injuries.

EMPLOYMENT OFF 35,800

HARRISBURG (AP).—Midsummer vacations and the prolonged drought helped cut an estimated 35,800 people from Pennsylvania's employment rolls between mid-June and mid-July.

A. Allen Sulcove, state secretary of labor and industry, reported Thursday that total employment fell to 4,312,900 during that period.

However he added, the overall decline was about normal.

Only farm employment, which dropped by 13,500, showed significantly more than the usual seasonal decrease. Sulcove said. He blamed the drop on the prolonged drought plaguing Pennsylvania.

Non-farm employment dropped 22,300—appreciably less than the usual seasonal change from June to July.

Non-farm employment was almost 33,000 above the same period of 1961. Sulcove noted, while farm employment was 15,000 below July, 1961.

PHILLY PROBE WILL CONTINUE DESPITE PLEA

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

PHILADELPHIA (AP).—Judge Eugene V. Alessandrini, who ordered a grand jury investigation into alleged corruption in City Hall, says the probe will continue regardless of how another Common Pleas Court rules on a taxpayer's suit seeking to block it.

"It is clearly my duty to see that the order of this court is carried out until the final word is spoken by the Supreme Court," Alessandrini said Thursday night several hours after the taxpayers' suit was heard by a special panel of common pleas court judges.

The three judges took the suit under advisement. Their decision is expected to be announced next Wednesday or Thursday. The grand jury is scheduled to begin hearing testimony Tuesday.

Some of the questioning by the special panel of judges indicated judicial doubt of Alessandrini's authority to convene the jury and to name a special prosecutor.

OTHER ISSUES

Meanwhile, there were these other developments in the probe: —It was disclosed identical threatening notes were sent to 12 members of the special grand jury. The Philadelphia Inquirer said the letters were printed in large strokes on 5-by-8 inch stationery and said: "Grand Juror U Serve And U'll Be Sorry."

Most of the copies had "U'll Be Sorry" underlined in red and bore the initials "DOC" as a signature, the newspaper said. Two grand jurors who received the notes said they will ask to be excused from jury duty for health reasons.

A five-man city council committee, whose investigation of assistant grand jury prosecutor F. Hastings Griffin Jr., was blocked by an order from Alessandrini, said it would appear today before Alessandrini to defend what it termed its right to make the inquiry.

18 Lose Lives On State Turnpike During August

persons have lost their lives on the Pennsylvania Turnpike during the month of August—only one below the monthly high recorded on the toll road in 1961, a grim 19.

But there is more to this story than the stark statistics which make the headlines. What caused these accidents? Could they have been avoided?

The answer to the first question is listed boldly and succinctly on the turnpike's accident chart. It reads this way:

Speed and sleep: driving too fast for conditions; blowouts; inattentive driver; sleep, speed and drink; sleep; blowout; speed; lost control of car; elderly operator; defective equipment.

Could they have been avoided?

CITES REASON

The Turnpike Commission feels they could have been if the operator had taken the proper precaution with his auto, or had not pushed himself past his point of physical endurance; or had been more attentive to his driving.

The commission says human errors cause the great majority of accidents.

Take the case of four men from Maryland driving early in the morning along the Northeast Extension for a visit to Pennsylvania. Two of them are dead today, killed when their car left the road about 10 miles north of Allentown.

A subsequent investigation revealed they had been drinking before they began their drive. Investigators estimate they had to be traveling over 80 miles an hour to reach the point of the accident from the time they entered the turnpike.

OTHER ACCIDENT

The time they entered the turnpike was marked on their toll ticket.

Or what about the woman who was killed outside of Pittsburgh when her car crashed into an embankment and roared into flames.

The investigation revealed she had called her mother in New York telling her she intended to stop for the night in Ohio. The car was shimmying a bit, she said, but not enough to prevent her from reaching an Ohio motel.

So it goes: The four Marines who were killed earlier this year when a car with bald tires skidded into theirs on a rain-soaked road; the three college students who were killed because of poor tires on a wet road. The driver's father had sent him money for new tires. A new tire was found in the spare stock in the trunk.

SEND ROCKET ALOFT

WALLOPS ISLAND, Va. (AP).—Space agency scientists sent a four-stage Scout rocket aloft today in an experiment aimed at learning what kind of heat shields are needed on space vehicles returning to earth at speeds of about 18,000 miles an hour.

Fired about 80 miles high, it was expected to land in the Atlantic about 100 miles east of Bermuda. There was no attempt to recover the payload.

GOLDBERG HAS FULL CAREER IN MANY POSTS

By WALTER R. MEARS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg has talked turkey with seamen, rescued the strike-threatened Metropolitan Opera and preached the administration's economic gospel during 19 action-filled months in the Kennedy cabinet.

Now he's leaving to take the job of his boyhood dreams. President Kennedy nominated Goldberg Wednesday to succeed Supreme Court Justice Felix Frankfurter, and said of his labor secretary:

SCHOLARLY APPROACH

"I believe that his scholarly approach to the law, combined with his deep understanding of our economic and political systems, will make him a valuable member of the Supreme Court."

Goldberg's black-haired wife, Dorothy, said "a little boy has a dream—and it comes true. This is something incredible, he's always wanted it."

Goldberg, in Chicago for efforts to avert a threatened railroad strike, said "I shall, with the approval of the Senate, dedicate myself with all humility to this high calling."

Born in 1908, Goldberg was the youngest of eight children of a poverty-stricken Jewish couple who came to the United States from Russia. He got his first job at the age of 12, as a delivery boy.

For two years, he went to two colleges at once and worked

He graduated from Northwestern University Law School, top man in the class of 1929 and got special permission to take the Illinois bar examination before he was 21.

By the mid-1930s, he was counsel for a number of unions. In World War II, Goldberg took a job with the Office of Strategic Services, organizing a giant espionage network of anti-Nazi transportation workers behind enemy lines.

As counsel for the CIO, he won the 1949 court ruling that made pensions a collective bargaining item. He helped engineer the agreement that created the AFL-CIO, and had leading roles in steel negotiations over a 10-year span.

Goldberg's wife is a well-known abstract painter. Modern paintings, some by Mrs. Goldberg, decorate the paneled Labor Department offices where Goldberg has spent many sleepless nights guiding marathon negotiating sessions.

MAN'S WORLD IS STICKOUT IN TV SEASON

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—In a television season which, although it hasn't even started, is marked by a paucity of new, fresh ideas, one hour-long show seems to be a standout. "It's A Man's World."

The word is that maybe the public will like it and maybe it won't, but at least it will react to this NBC series about four young men living on a houseboat in a Mid-west college town.

Least one jumps to the conclusion this is a new switch on old private-eye "Surfside Six," cast an eye on creator Peter Tewksbury's ambitious description of his latest "permanent character anthology" (a television-ese term invented to cover everything from "Ben Casey" to "Sam Benedict").

OUR TOWN FEELING

"We're trying to get something that falls among J. D. Salinger, Thornton Wilder and Maxwell Anderson," said the youthful-looking producer, "and to give it an 'Our Town' feeling—maybe it's even avant garde but we hope nobody in the audience knows it."

Tewksbury was director of those durable "Father Knows Best" shows, and moved along to create, produce and direct, "My Three Sons."

The reason the four boys, ranging in age from 14 to 22, live on a houseboat, Tewksbury said, is to "get them away from authoritarian figures like parents."

BACK LOT ORIGIN

The series had its genesis on Beverly: Lester Miller Jr., Mrs. Vincent Breighner Jr. and children, Rickie, Deborah, Patty, Kathy and Sherry; Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Caler, Emma Lee, Junior and Lee Mervin Weller, Barry and Bruce Rodgers and Mr. and Mrs. Larry Day and son, Charles.

SHIFTING UNIT STRIKES TRAIN

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A 24-car mail and express train of the Pennsylvania Railroad bound from New York to Washington was struck in the rear Thursday by a diesel locomotive shifting unit while the mail train was stopped in the North Philadelphia Station.

A Pennsylvania Railroad spokesman said there was slight damage. He said a coupler on the rear of the 24-car train was damaged. No cars were derailed and there were no tieups, the spokesman said.

Four crew members of the mail train and two postal employees were taken to Presbyterian Hospital for X-rays. The hospital said they apparently were not seriously injured.

They were Harry J. Hanburg, 44, of Washington; Harry M. Schroeder, 47, of Baltimore; Joseph A. Aliborelli, 46, of East Islip, Long Island, N.Y.; Joseph C. Costello, 47, of Lancaster, Pa.; all railroad employees; and Edgar E. Steube, 55, of Upper Darby, Pa., and Miguel P. Newsuan, 39, of Philadelphia.

the back lot of the big Revue Studios. Tewksbury had been signed for a series and went out to see what kind of backgrounds were available. He found one he liked: a small town set, with a tree-shaded square, a court-house plus a nearby lake.

CBS has hired Robert Earle for Allen Ludden's old "College Bowl" moderating chores, starting Sept. 23. He has been teaching in Ithaca College and has had some experience in local commercial and educational television.

Jack Clark, who filled in for Ludden during his recent holiday from "Password," looked as if he had studied the Ludden technique long and hard—he imitated it perfectly even to his arms-akimbo manner of passing out the words to players.

LAYMEN SCORE JESUIT VIEW TOWARD JEWS

NEW YORK (AP)—The Roman Catholic magazine Commonweal, edited by laymen, has criticized an editorial in America, a Catholic magazine edited by Jesuit priests, for warning Jews that pressure by some Jewish groups to keep religion out of public schools could encourage anti-Semitism.

America referred in its Sept. 1 issue to the U.S. Supreme Court decision outlawing an official prayer in New York State public schools, a move supported by some Jewish groups.

America urged that "provident leaders of American Judaism ask their more militant colleagues whether what is gained through the courts by such victories is worth the breakdown of community relations which will inevitably follow them."

COMMONWEAL STAND

Commonweal, in a lead editorial in its Sept. 7 issue titled "On Warning Jews," said it found America's approach to combating anti-Semitism "very odd."

"If there is any real danger of anti-Semitism among Catholics, then it is Catholics who ought to be warned. Indeed, 'warned' is too mild a word. They ought to be told as sharply as possible of the sin of

Stricken La. Town Starts To Clean Up

CAMERON, La. (AP)—Undaunted by its latest battle with the elements, this low-lying coastal town started Thursday to clean up after a death-dealing windstorm and high waters.

It was Cameron's third severe onslaught by storms and swirling waters in less than five years.

The official casualty list of Tuesday night's storm shows two dead and 30 injured. Eighteen were hospitalized. The Red Cross reported 125 families affected by the storm. One home was demolished and 16 house trailers were destroyed or severely damaged.

KANSAS CITY (AP)—A swarm of perhaps 10,000 bees spotted a tiny patch of green high among the skyscrapers of Kansas City Wednesday. They landed on it.

SCHNEEBELI IS TAKEN TO TASK BY GOP SOLONS

By JOHN KOENIG JR.
Associated Press Special Service

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Herman T. Schneebeli, R-Pa., says he voted against extension of unemployment compensation benefits because he did not believe the bill would meet the needs of Pennsylvania's long term unemployed.

He said Thursday the bill, rejected 13-12 by the House Ways and Means Committee would be "mortgaging the future" and would weaken the ability of employers to "successfully compete and to meet the burdens of any future unemployment."

Schneebeli's statement was in reply to a joint statement by Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., and Richardson Dilworth, Democratic candidate for governor of Pennsylvania, declaring it was "almost incredible that a Pennsylvania congressman could vote to defeat the bill."

DECISIVE VOTE

Clark and Dilworth, in a telegram to Rep. William W. Scranton, GOP candidate for governor, and Rep. James E. Van Zandt, GOP senatorial candidate, said Schneebeli's vote in the committee proved to be the decisive one in rejection of the measure.

They said if Schneebeli could be persuaded to reconsider, the bill could be saved and passed.

"We appeal to you, as the standard-bearer of your party, to exercise your leadership in this matter with your colleagues," the Clark-Dilworth telegram said.

EXPLAINS STAND

Schneebeli, explaining his stand, said under the present program an unemployed Pennsylvania worker is eligible for unemployment compensation for a period of from 30 weeks up to possibly 60 weeks.

"An additional few weeks for those few workers who have not already exhausted their state benefits would not help them in meeting their real needs," said Schneebeli. "They need a job, not an extension of relief."

He said less than half of the 340,000 to 400,000 unemployed workers in Pennsylvania in recent months would be entitled to any jobless benefits at all.

WOULD DISQUALIFY

"The majority of those otherwise entitled to unemployment compensation would be disqualified under the new program because of having already exhausted prior benefits," Schneebeli said.

"In the final analysis, the federal program would assist only

Labor Day Toll May Reach 490

CHICAGO (AP)—Safety officials—faced with a steady rise in the traffic death rate this year—urged today that the nation's motorists try to keep down the highway fatality count in the Labor Day weekend.

The National Safety Council estimates that between 410 and 490 persons will die in traffic accidents in the 78-hour holiday period starting at 6 p.m. (local time) today and ending at midnight Monday.

In the first seven months of this year 21,960 persons were killed on the nation's highways, an increase of 9 per cent over the same 1961 period, while motor travel increased 4 per cent.

The 3,840 persons killed in July represented a 16 per cent jump over the toll in July 1961 and was a record high for any July.

WEST INDIANS CELEBRATE NEW INDEPENDENCE

PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad-Tobago (AP)—The islanders of Trinidad and Tobago momentarily united their steel drums and calypso songs early today to solemnly raise the flag of independence over the Americas' newest nation.

The two southernmost islands of the West Indies rang down 165 years of British rule in a quiet midnight ceremony in the floodlit forecourt of Red House, the government building, before 35,000 citizens and guests.

RELIGIOUS SERVICES

Hours before, the bands and singers had been turned off the streets as many islanders flocked to religious services conducted by a Roman Catholic archbishop, an Anglican bishop, a Protestant pastor, a Moslem sheikh and a Hindu about one out of eight of Pennsylvania's unemployed, and at best would give that number only a few more weeks of relief.

"In order to finance this limited program, the Kennedy administration proposed to levy an additional tax against the wages paid by Pennsylvania employers for the year 1964.

"The administration would have us mortgage our future payroll taxes to pay for a very limited benefit going to a limited number of unemployed during a six-month period—from Oct. 1, 1962, to March 31, 1963."

PENAL EXPERTS RELEASE STUDY TO TASK FORCE

HARRISBURG (AP)—Recommendations to convert the Eastern State Correctional Institution from a maximum security prison to a criminal research center are under study today by the Joint State Government Commission.

A JSGC task force, headed by State Sen. Harry E. Seyler, D-York, heard the recommendations Thursday in a special report drawn up by members of its Subcommittee on Penal Institutions.

The subcommittee urged that the Philadelphia institution, now a maximum security prison, be converted into a "facility for diagnosis, treatment and research of adult offenders."

WOODSIDE VIEW

However, one committee member, Judge Robert S. Woodside, of State Superior Court, called for complete abandonment of the institution, terming it "a building of dilapidated dungeons."

He further stated that an institution such as Eastern State does not belong in the built-up part of a city as it is.

Woodside gathered little support for his proposal, however, as most subcommittee members advocated the conversion idea.

IMMEDIATE STUDY

In its official report, the subcommittee called for an immediate study to determine what physical and program facilities would be necessary to carry out such a change.

Present inmates, it said, could be redistributed to other institutions and there would be no need now or in the foreseeable future for a new maximum security prison in Pennsylvania.

This tied in with another subcommittee recommendation to retain the Western State Correctional Institution at Pittsburgh as a maximum security prison, but with its inmate population cut in half to 500.

17 RECOMMENDATIONS

In all, 17 recommendations were presented to the task force during the day long proceedings. Others included:

—Creation of a state-supported probation service available to county courts upon request.

—Enlargement of the State Board of Probation and Parole.

—Establishment of standards for pre-sentence investigators, qualifications of personnel and minimum salaries.

STATE CAMPS

—Development of a system of state agriculture and forestry camps to house the "better risk" properly screened inmates.

With regard to Western Penitentiary, the subcommittee found it to be in good physical condition, but recommended that the state acquire some 11 more acres of land around the prison to act as a buffer zone.

All the suggestions were taken under study by the task force for possible consideration as proposed legislation for the 1963 session of the state legislature.

Representatives of 35 other nations—including the United States, the Soviet Union and Cuba—witnessed the ceremony.

The new nation's prime minister, Dr. Eric Williams, has said the islands' 830,000 citizens and 1,864 square miles will remain "unequivocally west of the Iron Curtain."

A Lovelier You

By MARY SUE MILLER
HANDFULS OF BEAUTY. You many women think of hand care in terms of nail lacquer.

Actually it is just the frosting.

If you quest for lovelier hands, the skin and nails must be given the basic attentions. Those include several daily brush-scrubs and lotion massages, a nightly application of cuticle cream and a weekly manicure plus necessary polish touch-ups.

In addition, some special-care techniques would prevent or solve a number of pesky problems. Effective "specials" follow:

● Wash the hands occasionally with beauty grains or dry oatmeal. Either one, being slightly abrasive, removes scuffed or discolored skin. Thus the hand complexion clears and stays clear.

● At bedtime, massage the hands with your face cream or whatever emollient product you use. And, if you use a toning facial mask, apply it to the hands on a weekly basis. Both cosmetics are as restful for the hands as the face.

● After every washing, push back the nail cuticles with your towel. The practice renders the cuticles neat and manageable, even those raggedy cuticles.

● At manicures, use cuticle remover and an orangewood stick to trim away excessive growth. Never use scissors on anything but a hangnail.

● Get the buffer habit, as it stimulates nail strength. Buff before applying nail enamel; buff unpainted nails daily. If the nails are really weak, do keep them short and squarish in shape. Also try a polish or cream strengthener.

However work or weather-beaten your hands now may be, their looks will improve within weeks should you give them the care outlined.

LOVELIER HANDS

Do you have a hand problem? Send today for LOVELIER HANDS, a booklet that covers every step in a quest for hand beauty. It tells how to keep the skin and nails groomed; how to overcome weak nails, polish chips, discolored knuckles, prominent veins, wrinkles; how to use the hands with poised grace. To obtain your copy, write Mary Sue Miller, Box 158, The Gettysburg Times, Dundee, Ill., enclosing a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin.

MURDERS GIRL TO KNOW HOW KILLING FELT

NEW YORK (AP)—Pretty 14-year-old Suzanne Goskovic is dead, the boy she had a crush on told police, because he "just wanted to see what it felt like to kill someone."

The ravished body of brown-eyed, blonde Suzanne was found Thursday in shrubbery off a dirt road in Queens, about five blocks from her home.

She had been strangled with her brassiere and strips from her dress. On her abdomen were carved an "S" and an "X"—made with a beer can opener.

ON PROBATION

Walter Tumlin, 17, on probation after spending a year at a state reform school, led police to the scene of the crime after a 6-hour grilling. He was charged with homicide and rape.

"I strangled her with her clothes," he told detectives. "I just wanted to see what it felt like to kill someone."

A search began for Suzanne when she failed to return Wednesday night from a dance. Later it was learned that Tumlin had left

Gambling Den Boss Socked With Liens

READING, Pa. (AP)—Tax liens totaling $28,847 have been filed against George Barrow, 57, of Yeaton, described by federal authorities as boss of the biggest gambling den in the Eastern United States before it was raided Jan. 20.

A spokesman for the Internal Revenue Service said Thursday the liens represent income, withholding and Social Security taxes allegedly due from so-called employees of the operation, in addition to unemployment taxes.

Barrow is under federal indictment on charges dealing with interstate transportation in behalf of a gambling enterprise. He is free on bail.

The Jan. 20 raid by the Federal Bureau of Investigation resulted in the arrest of 110 persons.

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Actress Patrice Wymore was reported in good condition following surgery for the removal of an infected kidney. The operation was performed Thursday.

with her to walk her home. Suzanne cared little for boys, but she did like Tumlin. Near her body was her charm necklace. It bore the inscription "Sue and Walter."

PLAN NEW SPAN OVER DELAWARE RIVER

WASHINGTON (AP)—A bill authorizing a second bridge over the Delaware River between New Jersey and Delaware is now before the House for action.

The measure was approved by the House Public Works Committee Thursday. The House previously had passed a resolution consenting to the creation of the Delaware River and Bay Authority. That resolution is currently before the Senate.

The authority, already approved by the New Jersey and Delaware, would be in charge of the second bridge to be built near the existing Delaware Memorial Bridge.

The bill approved by the committee Thursday permits the proposed authority to use tolls from the Delaware Memorial Bridge to pay bonds it would float to finance the second bridge. It also permits tolls to be levied longer than the 50-year period set by the Bridge Act of 1946.

SCHNEEBELI IS TAKEN TO TASK BY COP SOLONS

By JOHN KOENIG JR.
Associated Press Special Service

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Herman T. Schneebeli, R-Pa., says he voted against extension of unemployment compensation benefits because he did not believe the bill would meet the needs of Pennsylvania's long term unemployed.

He said Thursday the bill, rejected 12-12 by the House Ways and Means Committee would be "mortgaging the future" and would weaken the ability of employers to "successfully compete and to meet the burdens of any future unemployment."

Schneebeli's statement was in reply to a joint statement by Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., and Richardson Dilworth, Democratic candidate for governor of Pennsylvania, declaring it was "almost incredible that a Pennsylvania congressman" could vote to defeat the bill.

DECISIVE VOTE

Clark and Dilworth, in a telegram to Rep. William W. Scranton, GOP candidate for governor, and Rep. James E. Van Zandt, GOP senatorial candidate, said Schneebeli's vote in the committee proved to be the decisive one in rejection of the measure.

They said if Schneebeli could be persuaded to reconsider, the bill could be saved and passed.

"We appeal to you, as the standard-bearer of your party, to exercise your leadership in this matter with your colleagues," the Clark-Dilworth telegram said.

EXPLAINS STAND

Schneebeli, explaining his stand, said under the present program an unemployed Pennsylvania worker is eligible for unemployment compensation for a period of from 36 weeks up to possibly 60 weeks.

"An additional few weeks for those few workers who have not already exhausted their state benefits would not help them in meeting their real needs," said Schneebeli. "They need a job, not an extension of relief."

He said less than half of the $40,000 to $400,000 unemployed workers in Pennsylvania in recent months would be entitled to any jobless benefits at all.

WOULD DISQUALIFY

"The majority of those otherwise entitled to unemployment compensation would be disqualified under the new program because of having already exhausted prior benefits," Schneebeli said.

"In the final analysis, the federal program would assist only

Labor Day Toll May Reach 490

CHICAGO (AP)—Safety officials—faced with a steady rise in the traffic death rate this year—urged today that the nation's motorists try to keep down the highway fatality count in the Labor Day weekend.

The National Safety Council estimates that between 410 and 490 persons will die in traffic accidents in the 78-hour holiday period starting at 6 p.m. (local time) today and ending at midnight Monday.

In the first seven months of this year 21,960 persons were killed on the nation's highways, an increase of 9 per cent over the same 1961 period, while motor travel increased 4 per cent.

The 3,840 persons killed in July represented a 16 per cent jump over the toll in July 1961 and was a record high for any July.

WEST INDIANS CELEBRATE NEW INDEPENDENCE

PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad-Tobago (AP)—The islanders of Trinidad and Tobago momentarily muted their steel drums and calypso songs early today to solemnly raise the flag of independence over the Americas' newest nation.

The two southernmost islands of the West Indies rang down 165 years of British rule in a quiet midnight ceremony in the floodlit forecourt of Red House, the government building, before 35,000 citizens and guests.

It was a subdued beginning as an independent member of the British Commonwealth for the Caribbean islands known for their steel bands and improvised calypso songs of African origin.

RELIGIOUS SERVICES

Hours before, the bands and singers had been turned off the streets as many islanders flocked to religious services conducted by a Roman Catholic archbishop, an Anglican bishop, a Protestant pastor, a Moslem sheikh and a Hindu about one out of eight of Pennsylvania's unemployed, and at best would give that number only a few more weeks of relief.

"In order to finance this limited program, the Kennedy administration proposed to levy an additional tax against the wages paid by Pennsylvania employers for the year 1964.

"The administration would have us mortgage our future payroll taxes to pay for a very limited benefit going to a limited number of unemployed during a six-month period—from Oct. 1, 1962, to March 31, 1963."

PENAL EXPERTS RELEASE STUDY TO TASK FORCE

HARRISBURG (AP)—Recommendations to convert the Eastern State Correctional Institution from a maximum security prison to a criminal research center are under study today by the Joint State Government Commission.

A JSGC task force, headed by State Sen. Harry E. Seyler, D-York, heard the recommendations Thursday in a special report drawn up by members of its Subcommittee on Penal Institutions.

The subcommittee urged that the Philadelphia institution, now a maximum security prison, be converted into a "facility for diagnosis, treatment and research of adult offenders."

WOODSIDE VIEW

However, one committee member, Judge Robert S. Woodside, of State Superior Court, called for complete abandonment of the institution, terming it "a building of dilapidated dungeons."

He further stated that an institution such as Eastern State does not belong in the built-up part of a city as it is.

Woodside gathered little support for his proposal, however, as most subcommittee members advocated the conversion idea.

In its official report, the subcommittee called for an immediate study to determine what physical and program facilities would be necessary to carry out such a change.

Present inmates, it said, could be redistributed to other institutions and there would be no need now or in the foreseeable future for a new maximum security prison in Pennsylvania.

This tied in with another subcommittee recommendation to retain the Western State Correctional Institution at Pittsburgh as a maximum security prison, but with its inmate population cut in half to 500.

17 RECOMMENDATIONS

In all, 17 recommendations were presented to the task force during the day long proceedings. Others included:

—Creation of a state-supported probation service available to county courts upon request.

—Enlargement of the State Board of Probation and Parole.

—Establishment of standards for pre-sentence investigators, qualifications of personnel and minimum salaries.

STATE CAMPS

—Development of a system of state agriculture and forestry camps to house the "better risk, properly screened, inmates."

With regard to Western Penitentiary, the subcommittee found it to be in good physical condition, but recommended that the state acquire some 11 more acres of land around the prison to act as a buffer zone.

All the suggestions were taken under study by the task force for possible consideration as proposed legislation for the 1963 session of the state legislature.

Representatives of 35 other nations—including the United States, the Soviet Union and Cuba—witnessed the ceremony.

The new nation's prime minister, Dr. Eric Williams, has said the island's 830,000 citizens and 1,864 square miles will remain "unequivocally west of the Iron Curtain."

A Lovelier You

By MARY SUE MILLER

HANDFULS OF BEAUTY. Too many women think of hand care in terms of nail lacquer.

Actually it is just the frosting.

If you quest for lovelier hands, the skin and nails must be given the basic attentions. Those include several daily brush-scrubs and lotion massages, a nightly application of cuticle cream and a weekly manicure plus necessary polish touch-ups.

In addition, some special-care techniques would prevent or solve a number of pesky problems. Effective "specials" follow:

• Wash the hands occasionally with beauty grains or dry oatmeal. Either one, being slightly abrasive, removes scuffed or discolored skin. Thus the hand complexion clears and stays clear.

• At bedtime, massage the hands with your face cream or whatever emollient product you use. And, if you use a toning facial mask, apply it to the hands on a weekly basis. Both cosmetics are as restful for the hands as the face.

• After every washing, push back the nail cuticles with your towel. The practice renders the cuticles neat and manageable, even those raggedy cuticles.

• At manicures, use cuticle remover and an orangewood stick to trim away excessive growth. Never use scissors on anything but a hangnail.

• Get the buffer habit, as it stimulates nail strength. Buff before applying nail enamel; buff unpainted nails daily. If the nails are really weak, do keep them short and squarish in shape. Also try a polish or cream strengtheners.

However work- or weather-beaten your hands now may be, their looks will improve within weeks should you give them the care outlined.

LOVELIER HANDS

Do you have a hand problem? Send today for LOVELIER HANDS, a booklet that covers every step in a quest for hand beauty. It tells how to keep the skin and nails groomed; how to overcome weak nails, polish chips, discolored knuckles, prominent veins, wrinkles; how to use the hands with poised grace. To obtain your copy, write Mary Sue Miller, Box 158, The Gettysburg Times, Dundee, Ill., enclosing a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin.

MURDERS GIRL TO KNOW HOW KILLING FELT

NEW YORK (AP)—Pretty 14-year-old Suzanne Grskovic is dead, the boy she had a crush on told police, because he "just wanted to see what it felt like to kill someone."

The ravished body of brown-eyed, blonde Suzanne was found Thursday in shrubbery off a dirt road in Queens, about five blocks from her home.

She had been strangled with her brassiere and strips from her dress. On her abdomen were carved an "S" and an "X"—made with a beer can opener.

ON PROBATION

Walter Tjunin, 17, on probation after spending a year at a state reform school, led police to the scene of the crime after a 6-hour grilling. He was charged with homicide and rape.

"I strangled her with her clothes," he told detectives. "I just wanted to see what it felt like to kill someone."

Gambling Den Boss Socked With Liens

READING, Pa. (AP)—Tax liens totaling $281,677 have been filed against George Barrow, 57, of Yeadon, described by federal authorities as boss of the biggest gambling den in the Eastern United States before it was raided Jan. 20.

A spokesman for the Internal Revenue Service said Thursday the liens represent income, withholding and Social Security taxes allegedly due from so-called employees of the operation, in addition to unemployment taxes.

Barrow is under federal indictment on charges dealing with interstate transportation in behalf of a gambling enterprise. He is free on bail.

The Jan. 20 raid by the Federal Bureau of Investigation resulted in the arrest of 110 persons.

Suzanne cared little for boys, but she did like Tjunin. Near her body was her charm necklace. It bore the inscription "Sue and Walter."

PLAN NEW SPAN OVER DELAWARE

WASHINGTON (AP)—A bill authorizing a second bridge over the Delaware River between New Jersey and Delaware is now before the House for action.

The measure was approved by the House Public Works Committee Thursday. The House previously had passed a resolution consenting to the creation of the Delaware River and Bay Authority. That resolution is currently before the Senate.

The authority, already approved by the New Jersey and Delaware, would be in charge of the second bridge to be built near the existing Delaware Memorial Bridge.

The bill approved by the committee Thursday permits the proposed authority to use tolls from the Delaware Memorial Bridge to pay bonds it would float to finance the second bridge. It also permits tolls to be levied longer than the 50-year period set by the Bridge Act of 1946.

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—Havana radio announced today that six Cuban counterrevolutionaries captured in Matanzas Province were sentenced to a firing squad for killing four militiamen.

GOLDBERG HAS FULL CAREER IN MANY POSTS

By WALTER R. MEARS
WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg has talked turkey with seamen, rescued the strike-threatened Metropolitan Opera and preached the administration's economic gospel during 19 action-filled months in the Kennedy cabinet.

Now he's leaving to take the job of his boyhood dreams. President Kennedy nominated Goldberg Wednesday to succeed Supreme Court Justice Felix Frankfurter, and said of his labor secretary:

"SCHOLARLY APPROACH"

"I believe that his scholarly approach to the law, combined with his deep understanding of our economic and political systems, will make him a valuable member of the Supreme Court."

Goldberg's black-haired wife, Dorothy, said "a little boy has a dream—and it comes true. This is something incredible, he's always wanted it."

Goldberg, in Chicago for efforts to avert a threatened railroad strike, said "I shall, with the approval of the Senate, dedicate myself with all humility to this high calling."

Born in 1908, Goldberg was the youngest of eight children of a poverty-stricken Jewish couple who came to the United States from Russia. He got his first job at the age of 12, as a delivery boy.

By the mid-1930s, he was counsel for a number of unions. In World War II, Goldberg took a job with the Office of Strategic Services, organizing a giant espionage network of anti-Nazi transportation workers behind enemy lines.

As counsel for the CIO, he won the 1949 court ruling that made pensions a collective bargaining item. He helped engineer the agreement that created the AFL-CIO, and had leading roles in steel negotiations over a 10-year span.

Goldberg's wife is a well-known abstract painter. Modern paintings, some by Mrs. Goldberg, decorate the paneled Labor Department offices where Goldberg has spent many sleepless nights guiding marathon negotiating sessions.

MAN'S WORLD IS STICKOUT IN TV SEASON

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—In a television season which, although it hasn't even started, is marked by a paucity of new, fresh ideas, one hour-long show seems to be a standout. "It's A Man's World."

The word is that maybe the public will like it and maybe it won't, but at least it will react to this NBC series about four young men living on a houseboat in a Mid-west college town.

Least one jumps to the conclusion this is a new switch on old private-eye "Surfside Six," cast an eye on creator Peter Tewksbury's ambitious description of his latest "permanent character anthology" (a television-ese term invented to cover everything from "Ben Casey" to "Sam Benedict").

OUR TOWN FEELING

"We're trying to get something that falls among J. D. Salinger, Thornton Wilder and Maxwell Anderson," said the youthful-looking producer, "and to give it an 'Our Town' feeling—maybe it's even avant garde but we hope nobody in the audience knows it."

Tewksbury was director of those durable "Father Knows Best" shows, and moved along to create, produce and direct, "My Three Sons."

The reason the four boys, ranging in age from 14 to 22, live on a houseboat, Tewksbury said, is to "get them away from authoritarian figures like parents."

BACK LOT ORIGIN

The series had its genesis on

Beverly: Lester Miller Jr., Mrs. Vincent Breighner Jr. and children, Rickie, Deborah, Patty, Kathy and Sherry; Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Caler, Emma Lee, Junior and Lee Mervin Waller, Barry and Bruce Rodgers and Mr. and Mrs. Larry Day and son, Charles.

SHIFTING UNIT STRIKES TRAIN

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A 24-car mail and express train of the Pennsylvania Railroad bound from New York to Washington was struck in the rear Thursday by a diesel locomotive shifting unit while the mail train was stopped in the North Philadelphia Station.

A Pennsylvania Railroad spokesman said there was slight damage. He said a coupler on the rear of the 24-car train was damaged. No cars were derailed and there were no tieups, the spokesman said.

Four crew members of the mail train and two postal employees were taken to Presbyterian Hospital for X-rays. The hospital said they apparently were not seriously injured.

They were Harry J. Hanburg, 44, of Washington; Harry M. Schroeder, 47, of Baltimore; Joseph A. Alborelli, 46, of East Islip, Long Island, N.Y.; Joseph C. Costello, 47, of Lancaster, Pa.; all railroad employees; and Edgar E. Steube, 55, of Upper Darby, Pa., and Miguel P. Newsuan, 39, of Philadelphia.

The back lot of the big Revue Studios, Tewksbury had been signed for a series and went out to see what kind of backgrounds were available. He found one he liked: a small town set, with a tree-shaded square, a court-house plus a nearby lake.

CBS has hired Robert Earle for Allen Ludden's old "College Bowl" moderating chores, starting Sept. 23. He has been teaching in Ithaca College and has had some experience in local commercial and educational television.

Jack Clark, who filled in for Ludden during his recent holiday from "Password," looked as if he had studied the Ludden technique long and hard—he imitated it perfectly even to his arms-akimbo manner of passing out the words to players.

LAYMEN SCORE JESUIT VIEW TOWARD JEWS

NEW YORK (AP)—The Roman Catholic magazine Commonweal, edited by laymen, has criticized an editorial in America, a Catholic magazine edited by Jesuit priests, for warning Jews that pressure by some Jewish groups could keep religion out of public schools could encourage anti-Semitism.

America referred in its Sept. 1 issue to the U.S. Supreme Court decision outlawing an official prayer in New York State public schools, a move supported by some Jewish groups.

America urged that "provident leaders of American Judaism ask their more militant colleagues whether what is gained through the courts by such victories is worth the breakdown of community relations which will inevitably follow them."

COMMONWEAL STAND

Commonweal, in a lead editorial in its Sept. 7 issue titled "On Warning Jews," said it found America's approach to combatting anti-Semitism "very odd."

"If there is any real danger of anti-Semitism among Catholics, then it is Catholics who ought to be warned. Indeed, 'warned' is too mild a word. They ought to be told as sharply as possible of the sin of

Why Not Try To Shoot Him First

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—After Norman L. Green found a pair of 6-foot plus alligators in a canal behind his home, he called the State Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission.

The commission said:

Take a heavy, three-pronged hook. Bait it with raw meat. Attach a 4-foot steel leader to the hook. Attach a heavy rope or chain to the leader. Attach the rope or chain to a post. When the gator chomps down on the raw meat and you've got him hooked, shoot him.

LISBON (AP)—Lisbon police announced Wednesday night the arrest of a "number of Communists" who allegedly planned to destroy national institutions and proclaim a popular republic in Portugal.

Police sources said those arrested also planned to give independence to Portuguese overseas territories.

any form of anti-Semitism," the editorial said.

The American Jewish Congress and two Reform Jewish groups have said that the America editorial amounted to a threat. They pointed out that Protestant, as well as some Catholic spokesmen, had supported the court's prayer decision and the principle of separation of church and state.

Stricken La. Town Starts To Clean Up

CAMERON, La. (AP)—Undaunted by its latest battle with the elements, this low-lying coastal town started Thursday to clean up after a death-dealing windstorm and high waters.

It was Cameron's third severe onslaught by storms and swirling waters in less than five years.

The official casualty list of Tuesday night's storm shows two dead and 30 injured. Eighteen were hospitalized. The Red Cross reported 125 families affected by the storm. One home was demolished and 16 house trailers were destroyed or severely damaged.

Built - Ins Provide Useful Storage Space In The Home

From the standpoint of function, a contemporary design, there should be a place for everything in the home... but "it ain't necessarily so."

There are so many things that you're likely to need storage place for — new acquisitions that must be accommodated, disorganized stereo components that simply have no place to go, etc.

clude general sizes and shapes, how they are arranged (side-by-side, vertically, etc.) and the areas of the house where the stored items will be near the point of use.

Balance this against available space in those areas, then combine the elements into the built-ins you need.

Key areas in which additional

BEAUTIFUL INVESTMENT

Well-planned, attractive landscaping maintains the value of home property in many cases, even though the home itself depreciates.

SHOWER HEIGHT

A shower bath installation at 72 inches above the floor has been proven to be the most convenient height for most people.

SMOOTH SPLICE

To splice two pieces of lumber, cut one off at a long, tapered angle, use it as a template to mark off the second piece at the same angle. Join with screws through edge, reinforce with glue.

Proper Lighting Extends Hours Of Outdoor Living

Outdoor lighting not only provides safety along paths, walks and steps and adds dramatic beauty to the home exterior at night, but also extends the living area of the home beyond the walls by making outdoor recreation and patio living possible after dark.

Here are some tips on how to light special features of the yard, provided by the American Home Lighting Institute.

1. Safety lighting should be extended wherever there are walks, paths or steps through the property. This can be done with shielded floodlights or mushroom-type reflectors.

2. For lighting the home exterior, spotlights or floodlights may be mounted under the eaves or beneath a low-hanging roof.

3. Wall bracket fixtures used for entrance lighting are appropriate for lighting patios or terraces.

4. For lighting game, barbecue or picnic areas, use two or more flood-lamps aimed from different directions. The trick is to achieve the desired lighting effect without making the lamps an eye-sore or something you constantly trip over.

5. Water-tight lamps disguised as lily pads or cattails are still popular for ornamental pools.

6. Mushroom-type reflectors mounted on poles or available on spikes for portability are excellent for highlighting flower beds.

Some communities permit only licensed electricians to install outdoor lighting circuits and equipment. If you are allowed and disposed to do it yourself, be sure that all outlets, sockets and cables are waterproof and the lighting fixtures are designed for outdoor use.

SAFE HOLDER

valuable space would be suitable for built-ins to hold linens or perhaps frequently used china and glassware.

Forgotten places such as under-stairways or beneath attic eaves can also be put to use for storage use and thereby do double duty.

TWO-SIDED UTILITY

A wall can be designed with one special activity in mind such as hobbies.

For instance, in a home workshop a wall might be devoted to drawer space, cabinets, racks, etc., to house tools, materials and blueprints for woodcraft projects.

Entertainment walls are self-explanatory and are geared to family interests as well. Such walls may feature television-framing bookshelves, hi-fi or stereo components, vertical storage space for record albums, a pull-down movie screen and a special cabinet to store a movie projector.

The third category of built-ins — furniture-storage combinations — include those items such as banquettes and window seats, bunk beds, snack bars, desks and headboards. Since this type of furniture is usually stationary, special care must be given to planning.

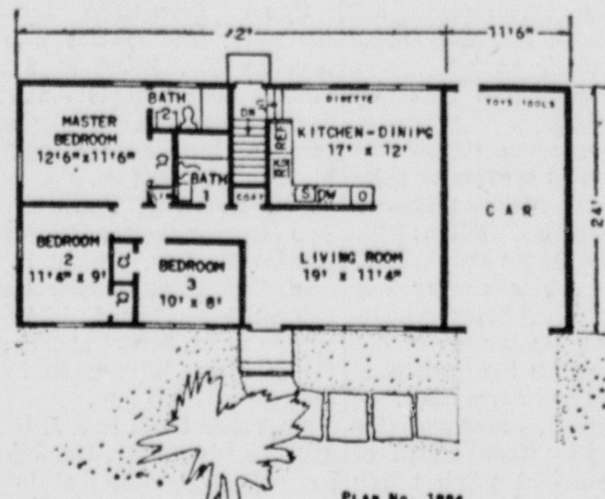

Feature Home Of The Week

DESIGN C-1884

This comfortable three-bedroom ranch home makes the most of economies to provide a home that will please a budget-minded family. The house is divided into areas, usually the bonus of a much more expensive home. The living room, dining room and kitchen use the area to the right of the entry, while the bedrooms and baths take over the other side for complete sleeping privacy. The extra luxury of the master bedroom, with its stall shower is made practical by having the bathrooms back to back and on the same line as kitchen plumbing. The service entry at the back leads right to the kitchen or to basement stairs. Living area is 1,008 sq. ft. For further information about Design C 1884, write to Illustrated Publications, Inc., 117 West 48th St., New York 36, N. Y.

Storage Unit Uses Space Under Attic Ceiling

IN PROGRESS here: construction of a storage unit under attic's sloping ceiling. Job is done without fancy carpentry. Fir plywood sheets cut to shape take the place of hard-to-fit framing.

Lighting Can Make A Home More Attractive And Livable

You can increase the physical comfort of your home, upgrade its resale value and enjoy better all around living if your house has ample lighting fixtures, well placed to provide proper light balance.

Five functions of light that should be considered in making your lighting decisions:

1. Impression lighting. Used to create dramatic and decorative effects on furnishings walls and objects in every room and the exterior of the home.

2. Comfort lighting. Lighting for overall personal comfort when reading, studying, playing cards, dressing and working.

3. Convenience lighting. Functional light for the many everyday chores and tasks necessary about the house.

4. Safety lighting. Night lights to guard against bumping into objects or stumbling on stairways and halls.

5. Protection lighting. Used for outdoor safety along driveways and entrances and on the grounds. Soft lighting is interesting and

ing fixtures in the ceiling for general lighting and those used to achieve dramatic or subtle effects.

In large rooms, combining recessed fixtures of both types for general lighting and specific purposes, often produces the best effects.

Use adjustable spotlights for highlighting specific accent objects or areas, such as a painting, statue, draperies or furniture.

EASY DOES IT

CLEANER HEARTH

Natural brick fireplace hearths will absorb less dirt and stains if scrubbed clean, and then coated with two coats of a clear, penetrating floor sealer.

Many Practical Ways To Heat Extra Room In Attic

The attic is one of the most flexible areas in the house. It can be remodeled into a bedroom, a den, an upstairs family room, or even an efficiency apartment.

Today there are many ways to heat the attic. The following are some of the methods used:

A space heater can be simply set on the attic floor. Space heaters use either gas, oil, kerosene or electricity. They are frequently the least expensive heating equipment to install, but they are not always economical to operate. Moreover, heat is usually concentrated in one spot around the heater.

Electric resistance baseboard units are relatively inexpensive and easy to install, and they provide more uniform heating than space heaters. Operating costs, however, usually run three to four times higher than that of unit except in a few areas where electric rates are extremely low. To maintain heating efficiency with electric units, extra heavy insulation is recommended for attic walls and ceiling. Cost of this extra insulation often offsets the savings in the cost of equipment. Current usually required is 220 volt.

Expanding your existing central heating system is another way to heat the attic. This should be done with the advice of a reliable heating contractor, who can tell whether your heating plant is large enough to handle the extra heating load. Expanding your heating system should provide the finest heating if the heating plant is properly installed.

You will probably have fewer problems expanding your heating system if it is a hydronic (modern hot water heating) system. According to the National Better-Heating-Cooling Council, a properly installed hydronic system can be expanded easily without extensive alterations to the system.

A separate heating system can also be installed just to heat the attic. This system uses a small hydronic boiler which is sized for one-room heating jobs. A small, silent pump is used to convey heated water from the boiler through finsize tubing to hydronic baseboard heating panels.

TIME SAVER

Remember to turn back a fraction of an inch on your roll of plastic, cellophane or masking tape before pressing cut end back against the roll. Or, slip a paper clip over cut end.

MORE CARE — LESS REPAIR

The plumbing system in a modern home represents about 10 per cent of the value of the house. It pays to make repairs while they're small.

Built - Ins Provide Useful Storage Space In The Home

From the standpoint of functional contemporary design, there should be a place for everything in the home... but "it ain't necessarily so."

There are so many things that you're likely to need storage place for — new acquisitions that must be accommodated, disorganized stereo components that simply have no place to go, etc.

include general sizes and shapes, how they are arranged (side by side, vertically, etc.) and the areas of the house where the stored items will be near the point of use.

Balance this against available space in those areas then combine the elements into the built-ins you need.

Key areas in which additional

BEAUTIFUL INVESTMENT

Well planned, attractive landscaping maintains the value of home property in many cases, even though the home itself depreciates.

SHOWER HEIGHT

A shower bath installation at 72 inches above the floor has been proven to be the most convenient height for most people.

SMOOTH SPLICE

To splice two pieces of lumber, cut one off at a long, tapered angle, use it as a template to mark off the second piece at the same angle. Join with screws through edge, reinforce with glue.

Proper Lighting Extends Hours Of Outdoor Living

Outdoor lighting not only provides safety along paths, walks and steps and adds dramatic beauty to the home exterior at night, but also extends the living area of the home beyond the walls by making outdoor recreation and patio living possible after dark.

Here are some tips on how to light special features of the yard, provided by the American Home Lighting Institute.

1. Safety lighting should be extended wherever there are walks, paths or steps through the property. This can be done with shielded floodlights or mushroom-type reflectors.

2. For lighting the home exterior, spotlights or floodlights may be mounted under the eaves or beneath a low-hanging roof.

3. Wall bracket fixtures used for entrance lighting are appropriate for lighting patios or terraces.

4. For lighting game, barbecue or picnic areas, use two or more flood-lamps aimed from different directions. The trick is to achieve the desired lighting effect without making the lamps an eye sore or something you constantly trip over.

5. Water-tight lamps disguised as lily pads or cattails are still popular for ornamental pools.

6. Mushroom type reflectors mounted on poles or available on spikes for portability are excellent for highlighting flower beds.

Some communities permit only licensed electricians to install outdoor lighting circuits and equipment. If you are allowed and disposed to do it yourself, be sure that all outlets, sockets and cables are waterproof and the lighting fixtures are designed for outdoor use.

SAFE HOLDER

valuable space would be suitable for built-ins to hold linens or perhaps infrequently used china and glassware.

Forgotten places such as under stairs or beneath attic eaves can also be put to use for storage use and thereby do double duty.

TWO-SIDED UTILITY
In addition to creating distinct activity areas, a partition between living and dining area might house china and such on the dining side and perhaps books on the living room side.
The second built-in category — the living wall — serves as an activity center as well as a wall and its design is limited only by one's interests.
A wall can be designed with one special activity in mind such as hobbies.
For instance, in a home workshop a wall might be devoted to drawer space, cabinets, racks, etc., to house tools, materials and blueprints for woodcraft projects.
Entertainment walls are self-explanatory and are geared to family interests as well. Such walls may feature television-framing bookshelves, hi-fi or stereo components, vertical storage space for record albums, a pull-down movie screen and a special cabinet to store a movie projector.
The third category of built-ins — furniture-storage combinations — include those items such as banquettes and window seats, bunk beds, snack bars, desks and headboards. Since this type of furniture is usually stationary, special care must be given to planning.

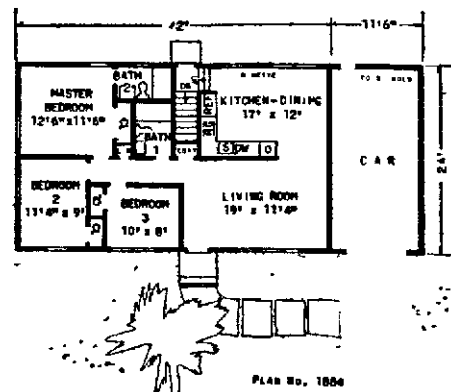

Feature Home Of The Week

This comfortable three bedroom ranch home makes the most of economies to provide a home that will please a budget minded family. The house is divided into areas, usually the bonus of a much more expensive home. The living room, dining room and kitchen use the area to the right of the entry, while the bedrooms and baths take over the other side for complete sleeping privacy. The extra luxury of the master bedroom, with its stall shower is made practical by having the bathrooms back to back and on the same line as kitchen plumbing. The service entry at the back leads right to the kitchen or to basement stairs. Living area is 1,008 sq. ft. For further information about Design C 1884, write to Illustrated Publications, Inc., 117 West 48th St., New York 36, N. Y.

Storage Unit Uses Space Under Attic Ceiling

IN PROGRESS here: construction of a storage unit under attic's sloping ceiling. Job is done without fancy carpentry. Fir plywood sheets cut to shape take the place of hard-to-fit framing.

Lighting Can Make A Home More Attractive And Livable

You can increase the physical comfort of your home, upgrade its resale value and enjoy better all around living if your house has ample lighting fixtures well placed to provide proper light balance.

Five functions of light that should be considered in making your lighting decisions:

1. Impression lighting. Used to create dramatic and decorative effects on furnishings, walls and objects in every room and the exterior of the home.

2. Comfort lighting. Lighting for overall personal comfort when reading, studying, playing cards, dressing and working.

3. Convenience lighting. Functional light for the many everyday chores and tasks necessary about the house.

4. Safety lighting. Night lights to guard against bumping into objects or stumbling on stairways and halls.

5. Protection lighting. Used for outdoor safety along driveways and entrances and on the grounds.

Soft lighting is interesting and desirable for the dining room, the living room or where flattering light can be used to advantage.

But in the privacy of the dressing room or bath use bright, clear illumination for good grooming. Avoid shadows. Have your light come from several directions.

Wall brackets or wall lanterns on each side of a bathroom mirror are very desirable and decorative.

Particularly dramatic effects are achieved by using pendant lights in clusters of three, all suspended from the same ceiling outlets over occasional tables and dining room tables.

Pull-down fixtures, which may be raised or lowered to change the light level, are extremely versatile. Like pendants, permanently wired pull-downs are suspended from the ceiling outlet. They are suitable where general lighting may be desired on some occasions and concentrated light on others.

The pull-down may be moved to provide the proper lighting. Another general category of lighting fixtures is the concealed type. This includes recessed light ing fixtures in the ceiling for general lighting and those used to achieve dramatic or subtle effects. In large rooms, combining recessed fixtures of both types for general lighting and specific purposes, often produces the best of facts.

Use adjustable spotlights for highlighting specific accent objects or areas, such as a painting, statue, draperies or furniture.

EASY DOES IT

Screw a metal drawer handle on the side of your step ladder at the point where ladder balances when lifted. This will make room-to-room transportation easier.

CLEANER HEARTH

Natural brick fireplace hearths will absorb less dirt and stains if scrubbed clean, and then coated with two coats of a clear, penetrating floor sealer.

Many Practical Ways To Heat Extra Room In Attic

The attic is one of the most flexible areas in the house. It can be remodeled into a bedroom, a den, an upstairs family room, or even an efficiency apartment.

Today there are many ways to heat the attic. The following are some of the methods used.

A space heater can be simply set on the attic floor. Space heaters use either gas, oil, kerosene or electricity. They are frequently the least expensive heating equipment to install, but they are not always economical to operate. Moreover, heat is usually concentrated in one spot around the heater.

Electric resistance baseboard units are relatively inexpensive and easy to install, and they provide more uniform heating than space heaters. Operating costs, however, usually run three to four times higher with this type of unit except in a few areas where electric rates are extremely low. To maintain heating efficiency with electric units, extra heavy insulation is recommended for attic walls and ceiling. Cost of this extra insulation, often offsets the savings in the cost of equipment. Current usually required is 220 volt.

Expanding your existing central heating system is another way to heat the attic. This should be done with the advice of a reliable heating contractor, who can tell whether your heating plant is large enough to handle the extra heating load. Expanding your heating system should provide the finest heating if the heating plant is properly installed.

You will probably have fewer problems expanding your heating system if it is a hydronic (modern hot water heating) system. According to the National Better Heating Cooling Council, a properly installed hydronic system can be expanded easily without extensive alterations to the system.

A separate heating system can also be installed just to heat the attic. This system uses a small hydronic boiler which is sized for one room heating jobs. A small, silent pump is used to convey heated water from the boiler through fingersize tubing to hydronic baseboard heating panels.

TIME SAVER

Remember to turn back a fraction of an inch on your roll of plastic, cellophane or masking tape before pressing cut end back against the roll. Or, slip a paper clip over cut end.

MORE CARE — LESS REPAIR

The plumbing system in a modern home represents about 10 percent of the value of the house. It pays to make repairs while they're small.

KENNEDY WILL SIGN BILL ON SATELLITES

By GEOFFREY GOULD
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy signs into law today something new under the sun, a private profit-making corporation organized by the government to operate the U.S. portion of a global space communications network.

A bipartisan congressional delegation and representatives of several executive departments are to witness the signing.

The controversial bill, which tied up the Senate for weeks in a filibuster by liberals who called it a giveaway, landed on the President's desk Monday when the House passed it 371-10.

CLOSE TO REQUEST

The bill which was the version finally passed by the Senate and concurred in by the house, was very close to what the President asked for.

The corporation, first of its kind in the history of American private enterprise eventually will put into orbit a network of satellite relay stations that can send messages and television pictures instantly to any point on the globe.

These satellites will be the descendants of the experimental Telstar, which already has showed it is possible to send clear television pictures across the Atlantic.

BACKSTAGE TALKS

The Kennedy administration, after many months of backstage talks, decided that the corporation to control this operation should be a private one, with half the stock owned by existing communications companies and half owned by the general public at $100 a share.

The President will appoint organizers of the company to get it started, and therein lies the unique quality of this corporate setup. It is the first time the government has set out to organize a company that will be privately owned and return a profit to its owners.

Thereafter, 15 directors will be named, six by the communications companies, six by the public stockholders and three by the President.

Liberals charged that the American Telephone and Telegraph Co., one of the largest in the world, would dominate the satellite corporation. Backers of the bill argued that it contained many safeguards and government controls to prevent this.

RARE ILLNESS HITS FLORIDA
ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—An outbreak of sleeping sickness, an unusual disease that affects the brain and nervous system, has hit this Florida West Coast resort area, with varying repercussions.

Pinellas County officials report 108 suspected cases of the illness, formally called encephalitis, and say they suspect eight deaths have been caused by it.

Motel and hotel operators along the Gulf Coast beaches say they have received numerous out-of-town reservation cancellations, although most report they are filled up for the Labor Day weekend.

Sleeping sickness is marked by nerve cell destruction, muscular weakness and lethargy.

The mosquito gets the sleeping sickness virus from infected birds that migrate to the St. Petersburg military training grounds here Thursday.

The bomb, made from 25 pounds of high explosive, six large packs of soapflakes and some waste oil, is being used to simulate nuclear warfare in maneuvers.

ANNUAL CRAB RACE WILL BE RUN SATURDAY
CRISFIELD, Md. (AP)—A crab race here Saturday—an unlikely event in the first place—is drawing unlikely comments from officials of states invited to enter.

The crabs will run in the third annual Governor's Cup, part of the 15th annual Hard Crab Derby held in Crisfield, a small waterman's town on the eastern shore of the Chesapeake Bay. Up to 15,000 persons are expected for the three-day festival, of which a crab race is a part.

Gov. Jimmie H. Davis of Louisiana wrote Maryland's Gov. J. Millard Tawes that his invitation arrived too late to capture a suitable contestant for the derby.

"Our Louisiana crabs are possessed, not only of tremendous speed, but with a high intelligence quotient," Davis said.

16-FOOT TRACK

Alabama's director of conservation, William C. Younger, wrote that Alabama couldn't send an entry. The reason?

"The crabs in Alabama are so superior in every respect and are so fast they they might not be able to catch one in time."

The race is run on a 16-foot inclined plywood track. The first crab to pass the finish line at the bottom is the winner.

An early favorite is Virginia Creeper III, son of the 1961 winner.

Other entries are expected from North Carolina, Delaware, Oregon, New Jersey and Maryland.

The purpose of all this is to promote the seafoods industry of Chesapeake Bay.

CUT WORKMAN COMPENSATION POLICY RATES
HARRISBURG (AP)—Starting Saturday, rates on insurance policies covering workmen's compensation will be lowered an average 2.5 per cent in Pennsylvania for all industries except coal mining.

The rate reduction was announced Thursday by State Insurance Commissioner Theodore S. Gutowicz.

Gutowicz estimated the new rates will save Pennsylvania employers approximately $1.7 million for policies issued during the year beginning Sept. 1.

CLAIM IMPROVEMENT

The reductions, he added, were feasible because of an improvement in claims experience and because assessments for the workmen's compensation security fund were eliminated from contract provisions.

Rates for classifications in the manufacturing and utilities group will be reduced on an average of 3.2 per cent and for classifications in the other industries group, 5.1 per cent.

Rates in the contracting and the quarrying group will be increased on an average of 1.5 per cent.

JUSTICE DEPT. SUES GM FOR PRICE CONTROL
LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Justice Department, in a civil suit, is renewing its attempt to prevent General Motors from allegedly trying to control prices at which its dealers sell cars.

The suit, filed Thursday, in the U.S. District Court in Los Angeles parallels a criminal indictment returned last Oct. 12.

In Detroit a General Motors spokesman said the company had not received official notification of the civil suit. He referred questions to a statement issued by Chairman Frederick G. Donner after the October criminal indictment.

DENIES CHARGES

Donner said that the government's charges were without foundation.

Donner's statement said, in part: "General Motors has made no agreements with its dealers or anyone else, nor have we inflicted or threatened to inflict any sanctions on dealers supplying cars to discount house outlets."

Named as defendant in the new suit along with General Motors were these Chevrolet dealers associations—Los Angeles Dealers Association of Los Angeles and Orange Counties; Dealers Service, Inc. of Los Angeles County; and Foothill Chevrolet Dealers of Los Angeles, Riverside and San Bernardino Counties.

The criminal indictment, now awaiting trial, was brought against the same defendants and three Chevrolet sales officials.

The civil suit accuses the de-

STORMS MOVE ACROSS MANY AREAS IN EAST
By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Rain and thunderstorms spread across scattered sections in the East today but clear weather prevailed in most Western areas.

A flow of warm humid air from the Gulf streamed northward Thursday over the Plains states and clashed with much cooler air pushing eastward from the Rockies.

Thunderstorms broke out along the boundary between the two contrasting air masses from northern Kansas through eastern Nebraska and western Iowa into the western Great Lakes region and from Wyoming southward to New Mexico.

STORMS CONTINUE

Rain and thunderstorms continued during the night and early morning in Midwest areas into the Central Plains with heavy downpours in northwest Iowa. More than nine inches of rain drenched Ida Grove, Iowa, in a 12-hour period, causing some flooding. Nearly seven inches doused Pocahontas with amounts from 3 to 4 inches in other areas.

Light rain and showers dampened southern sections of the Middle Mississippi Valley. Fog covered scattered sections of the Great Lakes region, the Ohio Valley, Maine, along the coast in the Middle and Southern Atlantic Coast states, the Upper and Middle Mississippi Valley, the Central Plains and along coastal areas in the Pacific Coast states.

Cooler spots were in the Northern and Central Rockies with temperatures in the 40s. The 50s prevailed in the Northern and Central Plains and Central Plateau regions with the 60s and 70s across the major part of the country. Hot spots were in the southwest desert region.

SANFORD GETS MOST RELIEF
SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Jack Sanford, the San Francisco Giants right-hander, has collected more relief help in 2½ months than most pitchers get in a career—but he's invested it wisely to build a 19-6 record that is studded with 13 consecutive victories.

Thursday his bullpen helpmates reached their pinnacle of generosity. Five relievers paraded to the mound in the final 2-1-3 innings against the Milwaukee Braves.

When they were finished, the Braves had loaded the bases in the eighth with one out, loaded them again in the ninth with none away but scored nary a run as the Giants won 3-2 for Sanford.

Burly Jack thus extended the major leagues' longest 1962 pitching win streak while at the same time getting relief help for the 13th time in 17 starts since he last was defeated.

The 33-year-old fireballer, compiling a 6-6 record through June 13, had a 3.58 earned run average. With a 3.50 ERA since then, he's won 13 straight.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A new $100,000 suit has been filed against the estate of the late film actor Clark Gable by a woman who withdrew an identical suit a year ago.

Mrs. Jill Winkler Rath, 41, charges Gable broke an agreement to will her the amount.

Mrs. Rath is the widow of Hollywood press agent Otto Winkler, who was killed in a 1942 Nevada plane crash in which Gable's third wife, actress Carole Lombard, also died.

Mrs. Rath contends Gable agreed to will her $100,000 because the actor had induced her husband to accompany Miss Lombard and because Gable also persuaded Mrs. Rath to accept a small settlement from the airline.

RARE ILLNESS HITS FLORIDA
ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—An outbreak of sleeping sickness, an unusual disease that affects the brain and nervous system, has hit this Florida West Coast resort area, with varying repercussions.

Pinellas County officials report 108 suspected cases of the illness, formally called encephalitis, and say they suspect eight deaths have been caused by it.

Motel and hotel operators along the Gulf Coast beaches say they have received numerous out-of-town reservation cancellations, although most report they are filled up for the Labor Day weekend.

Sleeping sickness is marked by nerve cell destruction, muscular weakness and lethargy.

Health officials say it is caused by the bite of a certain type of mosquito. It cannot be transmitted from one person to another.

The mosquito gets the sleeping sickness virus from infected birds that migrate to the St. Petersburg military training grounds here Thursday.

The bomb, made from 25 pounds of high explosive, six large packs of soapflakes and some waste oil, is being used to simulate nuclear warfare in maneuvers.

ANNUAL CRAB RACE WILL BE RUN SATURDAY
CRISFIELD, Md. (AP)—A crab race here Saturday—an unlikely event in the first place—is drawing unlikely comments from officials of states invited to enter.

The crabs will run in the third annual Governor's Cup, part of the 15th annual Hard Crab Derby held in Crisfield, a small waterman's town on the eastern shore of the Chesapeake Bay. Up to 15,000 persons are expected for the three-day festival, of which a crab race is a part.

Gov. Jimmie H. Davis of Louisiana wrote Maryland's Gov. J. Millard Tawes that his invitation arrived too late to capture a suitable contestant for the derby.

"Our Louisiana crabs are possessed, not only of tremendous speed, but with a high intelligence quotient," Davis said.

16-FOOT TRACK

Alabama's director of conservation, William C. Younger, wrote that Alabama couldn't send an entry. The reason?

"The crabs in Alabama are so superior in every respect and are so fast they they might not be able to catch one in time."

The race is run on a 16-foot inclined plywood track. The first crab to pass the finish line at the bottom is the winner.

An early favorite is Virginia Creeper III, son of the 1961 winner.

Other entries are expected from North Carolina, Delaware, Oregon, New Jersey and Maryland.

The purpose of all this is to promote the seafoods industry of Chesapeake Bay.

CUT WORKMAN COMPENSATION POLICY RATES
HARRISBURG (AP)—Starting Saturday, rates on insurance policies covering workmen's compensation will be lowered an average 2.5 per cent in Pennsylvania for all industries except coal mining.

The rate reduction was announced Thursday by State Insurance Commissioner Theodore S. Gutowicz.

Gutowicz estimated the new rates will save Pennsylvania employers approximately $1.7 million for policies issued during the year beginning Sept. 1.

CLAIM IMPROVEMENT

The reductions, he added, were feasible because of an improvement in claims experience and because assessments for the workmen's compensation security fund were eliminated from contract provisions.

Rates for classifications in the manufacturing and utilities group will be reduced on an average of 3.2 per cent and for classifications in the other industries group, 5.1 per cent.

Rates in the contracting and the quarrying group will be increased on an average of 1.5 per cent.

JUSTICE DEPT. SUES GM FOR PRICE CONTROL
LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Justice Department, in a civil suit, is renewing its attempt to prevent General Motors from allegedly trying to control prices at which its dealers sell cars.

The suit, filed Thursday, in the U.S. District Court in Los Angeles parallels a criminal indictment returned last Oct. 12.

In Detroit a General Motors spokesman said the company had not received official notification of the civil suit. He referred questions to a statement issued by Chairman Frederick G. Donner after the October criminal indictment.

DENIES CHARGES

Donner said that the government's charges were without foundation.

Donner's statement said, in part: "General Motors has made no agreements with its dealers or anyone else, nor have we inflicted or threatened to inflict any sanctions on dealers supplying cars to discount house outlets."

Named as defendant in the new suit along with General Motors were these Chevrolet dealers associations—Los Angeles Dealers Association of Los Angeles and Orange Counties; Dealers Service, Inc. of Los Angeles County; and Foothill Chevrolet Dealers of Los Angeles, Riverside and San Bernardino Counties.

The criminal indictment, now awaiting trial, was brought against the same defendants and three Chevrolet sales officials.

STORMS MOVE ACROSS MANY AREAS IN EAST
By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Rain and thunderstorms spread across scattered sections in the East today but clear weather prevailed in most Western areas.

A flow of warm humid air from the Gulf streamed northward Thursday over the Plains states and clashed with much cooler air pushing eastward from the Rockies.

Thunderstorms broke out along the boundary between the two contrasting air masses from northern Kansas through eastern Nebraska and western Iowa into the western Great Lakes region and from Wyoming southward to New Mexico.

STORMS CONTINUE

Rain and thunderstorms continued during the night and early morning in Midwest areas into the Central Plains with heavy downpours in northwest Iowa. More than nine inches of rain drenched Ida Grove, Iowa, in a 12-hour period, causing some flooding. Nearly seven inches doused Pocahontas with amounts from 3 to 4 inches in other areas.

Light rain and showers dampened southern sections of the Middle Mississippi Valley. Fog covered scattered sections of the Great Lakes region, the Ohio Valley, Maine, along the coast in the Middle and Southern Atlantic Coast states, the Upper and Middle Mississippi Valley, the Central Plains and along coastal areas in the Pacific Coast states.

Cooler spots were in the Northern and Central Rockies with temperatures in the 40s. The 50s prevailed in the Northern and Central Plains and Central Plateau regions with the 60s and 70s across the major part of the country. Hot spots were in the southwest desert region.

SANFORD GETS MOST RELIEF
SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Jack Sanford, the San Francisco Giants right-hander, has collected more relief help in 2½ months than most pitchers get in a career—but he's invested it wisely to build a 19-6 record that is studded with 13 consecutive victories.

Thursday his bullpen helpmates reached their pinnacle of generosity. Five relievers paraded to the mound in the final 2-1-3 innings against the Milwaukee Braves.

When they were finished, the Braves had loaded the bases in the eighth with one out, loaded them again in the ninth with none away but scored nary a run as the Giants won 3-2 for Sanford.

Burly Jack thus extended the major leagues' longest 1962 pitching win streak while at the same time getting relief help for the 13th time in 17 starts since he last was defeated.

KENNEDY WILL SIGN BILL ON SATELLITES

By GEOFFREY GOULD
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy signs into law today something new under the sun, a private profit-making corporation organized by the government to operate the U.S. portion of a global space communications network.

A bipartisan congressional delegation and representatives of several executive departments are to witness the signing.

The controversial bill, which tied up the Senate for weeks in a filibuster by liberals who called it a giveaway, landed on the President's desk Monday when the House passed it 371-10.

CLOSE TO REQUEST

The bill which was the version finally passed by the Senate and concurred in by the house, was very close to what the President asked for.

The corporation, first of its kind in the history of American private enterprise eventually will put into orbit a network of satellite relay stations that can send messages and television pictures instantly to any point on the globe.

BACKSTAGE TALKS

The Kennedy administration, after many months of backstage talks, decided that the corporation to control this operation should be a private one, with half the stock owned by existing communications companies and half owned by the general public at $100 a share.

The President will appoint organizers of the company to get it started, and therein lies the unique quality of this corporate setup. It is the first time the government has set out to organize a company that will be privately owned and return a profit to its owners.

Thereafter, 15 directors will be named, six by the communications companies, six by the public stockholders and three by the President.

Liberals charged that the American Telephone and Telegraph Co., one of the largest in the world, would dominate the satellite corporation. Backers of the bill argued that it contained many safeguards and government controls to prevent this.

RARE ILLNESS HITS FLORIDA

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—An outbreak of sleeping sickness, an unusual disease that affects the brain and nervous system, has hit this Florida West Coast resort area, with varying repercussions.

Pinellas County officials report 108 suspected cases of the illness, formally called encephalitis, and say they suspect eight deaths have been caused by it.

Motel and hotel operators along the Gulf Coast beaches say they have received numerous out-of-town reservation cancellations, although most report they are filled up for the Labor Day weekend.

Sleeping sickness is marked by nerve cell destruction, muscular weakness and lethargy.

Health officials say it is caused by the bite of a certain type of mosquito. It cannot be transmitted from one person to another. The mosquito gets the sleeping sickness virus from infected birds that migrate to the St. Petersburg area.

An all-out spraying campaign is on to try to eradicate the mosquitoes.

The disease can be confirmed only by laboratory tests which take several weeks.

In Air Force lingo, "three-headed monsters" are men qualified not only to fly their planes, but to navigate and serve as bombardier as well.

ANNUAL CRAB RACE WILL BE RUN SATURDAY

CRISFIELD, Md. (AP)—A crab race here Saturday—an unlikely event in the first place—is drawing unlikely comments from officials of states invited to enter.

The crabs will run in the third annual Governor's Cup, part of the 15th annual Hard Crab Derby held in Crisfield, a small waterman's town on the eastern shore of the Chesapeake Bay. Up to 15,000 persons are expected for the three-day festival, of which a crab race is a part.

Gov. Jimmie H. Davis of Louisiana wrote Maryland's Gov. J. Millard Tawes that his invitation arrived too late to capture a suitable contestant for the derby.

"Our Louisiana crabs are possessed, not only of tremendous speed, but with a high intelligence quotient," Davis said.

16-FOOT TRACK

Alabama's director of conservation, William C. Younger, wrote that Alabama couldn't send an entry. The reason?

"The crabs in Alabama are so superior in every respect and are so fast they might not be able to catch one in time."

The race is run on a 16-foot inclined plywood track. The first crab to pass the finish line at the bottom is the winner.

An early favorite is Virginia Creeper III, son of the 1961 winner.

Other entries are expected from North Carolina, Delaware, Oregon, New Jersey and Maryland. The purpose of all this is to promote the seafoods industry of Chesapeake Bay.

CUT WORKMAN COMPENSATION POLICY RATES

HARRISBURG (AP)—Starting Saturday, rates on insurance policies covering workmen's compensation will be lowered an average 2.5 per cent in Pennsylvania for all industries except coal mining.

The rate reduction was announced Thursday by State Insurance Commissioner Theodore S. Gutwicz.

Gutwicz estimated the new rates will save Pennsylvania employers approximately $1.7 million for policies issued during the year beginning Sept. 1.

CLAIM IMPROVEMENT

The reductions, he added, were feasible because of an improvement in claims experience and because assessments for the workmen's compensation security fund were eliminated from contract provisions.

Rates for classifications in the manufacturing and utilities group will be reduced on an average of 3.2 per cent and for classifications in the other industries group, 5.1 per cent.

Rates in the contracting and the quarrying group will be increased on an average of 1.5 per cent.

JUSTICE DEPT. SUES GM FOR PRICE CONTROL

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Justice Department, in a civil suit, is renewing its attempt to prevent General Motors from allegedly trying to control prices at which its dealers sell cars.

The suit filed Thursday, in the U.S. District Court in Los Angeles, parallels a criminal indictment returned last Oct. 12.

In Detroit a General Motors spokesman said the company had not received official notification of the civil suit. He referred questions to a statement issued by Chairman Frederick G. Donner after the October criminal indictment.

DENIES CHARGES

Donner said then that the government's charges were without foundation.

Donner's statement said, in part: "General Motors has made no agreements with its dealers or anyone else nor have we inflicted or threatened to inflict any sanctions on dealers supplying cars to discount house outlets."

Named as defendant in the new suit along with General Motors were these Chevrolet dealers associations—Losor Chevrolet Dealers Association of Los Angeles and Orange Counties; Dealers Service, Inc. of Los Angeles County; and Foothill Chevrolet Dealers of Los Angeles, Riverside and San Bernardino Counties.

The criminal indictment, now awaiting trial, was brought against the same defendants and three Chevrolet sales officials.

The civil suit accuses the defendants of trying to pressure Chevrolet dealers from selling to discount operators or referral services—both a widespread factor in California Chevrolet sales.

STORMS MOVE ACROSS MANY AREAS IN EAST

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Rain and thunderstorms spread across scattered sections in the East today but clear weather prevailed in most Western areas.

A flow of warm humid air from the Gulf streamed northward Thursday over the Plains states and clashed with much cooler air pushing eastward from the Rockies.

Thunderstorms broke out along the boundary between the two contrasting air masses from northern Kansas through eastern Nebraska and western Iowa into the western Great Lakes region and from Wyoming southward to New Mexico.

STORMS CONTINUE

Rain and thunderstorms continued during the night and early morning in Midwest areas into the Central Plains with heavy downpours in northwest Iowa. More than nine inches of rain drenched Ida Grove, Iowa, in a 12-hour period, causing some flooding. Nearly seven inches doused Pocahontas with amounts from 3 to 4½ inches in other areas.

Light rain and showers damped southern sections of the Middle Mississippi Valley. Fog covered scattered sections of the Great Lakes region, the Ohio Valley, Maine, along the coast in the Middle and Southern Atlantic Coast states, the Upper and Middle Mississippi Valley, the Central Plains and along coastal areas in the Pacific Coast states.

Coolest spots were in the Northern and Central Rockies with temperatures in the 40s. The 50s prevailed in the Northern and Central Plains and Central Plateau regions with the 60s and 70s across the major part of the country. Hot spots were in the southwest desert region.

SANFORD GETS MOST RELIEF

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Jack Sanford, the San Francisco Giants right-hander, has collected more relief help in 2½ months than most pitchers get in a career—but he's invested it wisely to build a 196 record that is studded with 13 consecutive victories.

Thursday his bullpen helpmates reached their pinnacle of generosity. Five relievers paraded to the mound in the final 2-13 innings against the Milwaukee Braves.

When they were finished, the Braves had loaded the bases in the eighth with one out, loaded them again in the ninth with none away but scored nary a run as the Giants won 3-2 for Sanford.

Burly Jack thus extended the major leagues' longest 1962 pitching win streak while at the same time getting relief help for the 13th time in 17 starts since he last was defeated.

The 33-year-old fireballer, compiling a 6-6 record through June 13, had a 3.58 earned run average. With a 3.50 ERA since then, he's won 13 straight.

News Briefs

NORFOLK Va. (AP)—The nuclear merchant ship Savannah narrowly avoided a collision with a Navy destroyer Thursday as she entered Hampton Roads on return from her maiden voyage.

The destroyer Stickle reported missed ramming the Savannah by two feet.

A Navy spokesman said the Stickle, one of seven destroyers which entered the narrow channel at the same time as the nuclear ship, sounded emergency signals and backed down.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A new $100,000 suit has been filed against the estate of the late film actor defendants of trying to pressure Chevrolet dealers from selling to discount operators or referral services—both a widespread factor in California Chevrolet sales.

Hagerstown Will Hold Twin-Double

HAGERSTOWN — Twin-double wagering will be introduced at Hagerstown's annual 12-day race meeting which opens on Monday, September 10, and continues through Saturday, September 22.

Already enjoying the hearty endorsement of turf fans in neighboring West Virginia, the twin-double will be conducted in Hagerstown for the very first time at a Maryland thoroughbred track. A multiple form of wagering, the twin-double consists of special pool betting on the fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth races.

The regular daily double, involving the first two races on the daily program will also be retained.

Dr. Robert C. Snively, president of the Hagerstown course, has announced a 1:30 p.m. post time for the 1962 meeting. Hagerstown is the fourth of Maryland's five minor thoroughbred tracks to run this year, following the current Timonium session.

PERRY MASON MOVES CASES TO THURSDAY

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Indomitable Perry Mason, who has been defending the innocent every Saturday night for the past five years will soon be moving lock, stock, Della, Paul and Hamilton to Thursday nights.

And of all the shifting of programs the new television season, the switch on Sept. 27 of "Perry Mason" will be watched with the greatest interest. When the show was launched, Saturday night generally was regarded as a sort of television sabbath, a time when only the very young and the infirm were home watching their sets.

Either the premise was wrong or "Perry Mason" persuaded a lot of people Saturday was a good night to stay home. The show—and the ones which followed it on CBS—invariably have rolled up enormous audiences.

NEW TIME PROBLEM

The big question is whether the invincible attorney and his acting family will be able to carry that audience into another day and a new hour.

"None of us is nervous," insists producer Gail Patrick Jackson. "It's like moving to a new neighborhood. You may make new friends but you'll still keep your old ones, too."

Mrs. Jackson gets a bit annoyed with those who complain about the "rigid format" of the series.

"No one has ever said we must have a rigid form and we don't feel that it is," she explained. "All we have tried to do is keep the characters and the stories as compatible as possible with the books. After all, Erle Stanley Gardner is still writing Mason books and they are enormously popular."

DICK POWELL

Dick Powell must be superstitious. Last season he premiered his new anthology series with a whodunit containing so many stars in "Cameo" (that means short and smallish roles) that he had to list them alphabetically. The series was a hit. This year, although his opening show of the season on Sept. 25 isn't exactly a mystery show, his alphabetical list of stars—eight—ranges from Allyson (June) to Stanwyck (Barbara).

NBC's news special earlier this week seemed like a quickie tossed together for a lean season. It was a bunch of now-familiar clips from old newscasts and—obviously—battle scenes from World War I movies glued together by a marine disaster. The "Riddle of the Lusitania"—whether it was carrying arms and explosives when torpedoed during the First World War remains unanswered.

Clark Gable by a woman who withdrew an identical suit a year ago.

Mrs. Jill Winkler Rath, 41, charges Gable broke an agreement to will her the amount.

Mrs. Rath is the widow of Hollywood press agent Otto Winkler, who was killed in a 1942 Nevada plane crash in which Gable's third wife, actress Carole Lombard, also died.

Mrs. Rath contends Gable agreed to will her $100,000 because the actor had induced her husband to accompany Miss Lombard and because Gable also persuaded Mrs. Rath to accept a small settlement from the airline.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Firefighters went into mopping up operations on two mountain brush fires north of Los Angeles today after containing one and controlling the other.

Moist ocean winds helped firemen get the upper hand Thursday night.

FRESNO, Calif. (AP)—A leak which sprayed hydraulic fluid in the cabin forced a plane carrying Gov. Edmund G. Brown and his wife to land at Fresno Thursday. No one was injured.

UNION EYEING FARM GROUP AS NEW UNIT

CORNING, Iowa (AP)—An organized drive to apply trade union principles to farm marketing has spread across the Midwest cornbelt.

The National Farmers Organization (NFO), arguing that farmers are the most underpaid group in America, has launched a program to engage food processors in collective bargaining.

To back up its demands for contracts with processors to assure farmers a fixed price for their products, members of the NFO have agreed to hold livestock and grain from markets starting Saturday. No contracts have been signed.

LITTLE SUCCESS

The NFO on three previous occasions has held livestock, primarily hogs, from markets. Its leaders claimed success in 1959, 1960 and again last year. Marketing officials said there was little noticeable effect.

Little success also was foreseen on the latest and most ambitious of the organization's holding actions.

The NFO has members in 15 states but refuses to reveal its membership figures.

Best estimates are that the NFO has between 75,000 and 250,000 members paying $25 a year dues.

NFO members also belong to other farm organizations, principally the American Farm Bureau Federation.

U.S. BISHOPS WERE LIVELY PARTICIPANTS

By JULES LOH
AP Staff Writer

America's Catholic bishops will take with them to the Second Vatican Council next October a background of lively participation in this rarely used form of church government.

At the last council, a century ago, 46 prelates from the United States participated. Some — notably Bishop Augustin Verot of Savannah, Ga., and Bishop Edward Fitzgerald of Little Rock Ark. — treated the staid assembly to some forthright examples of Yankee determination.

(Editor's note: Bishop Fitzgerald and Archbishop Purcell graduates of Mt. St. Mary's College, Emmitsburg. The latter was the fourth president of the college. He received the first Maryland State charter for the college in 1830.)

AGAINST DEFINITION

Bishop Fitzgerald was one of only two participants who said "non placet" (I am not pleased) on the final vote to adopt a definition of papal infallibility. The other was an Italian, Bishop Aloisio Riccio of Cajazzo.

Bishop Verot also was opposed, but he made his reputation mainly through fiery speeches on lesser issues.

He thought it was a "disgraceful spectacle" for priests to hunt with guns and feel there should be a church law against it. He wanted the council to take a strong stand on racial justice and proposed a canon "anathematizing any who dare to assert that blacks are not of the human family."

BIGGEST ISSUE

The biggest issue of the First Vatican Council—whether to define papal infallibility—was not even on the proposed agenda when the assembly convened in 1869.

The main point of controversy wasn't whether the Pope was infallible when speaking on matters of faith and morals (only 15 of the 601 bishops present were opposed to the doctrine) but whether it was advisable to define the doctrine at that time.

Most of the Americans felt it was not.

Archbishops Peter Kenrick of St. Louis and John Purcell of Cincinnati and Bishop Michael Domenec of Pittsburgh led U.S. opposition. They claimed, one observer reported "that the definition would be an insurmountable obstacle to the conversion of Protestants in the United States."

According to this writer, Domenec felt that "if there be no setback, in 30 or 40 years the number of Catholics will be greater in North America than in Italy; and they will be not merely nominal, but real practicing Catholics. The only calamity that can destroy so fair a hope would be the doctrine of papal infallibility." (Present count: Italy 49 million Catholics, practicing and nominal; North America 50 million.)

FOUR INDICTED IN FOOD FRAUD

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Three Fayette County men have been indicted by a federal grand jury for bribery and conspiracy in the illegal acquisition of federal food stamps.

Indicted Thursday were Nathan Volpe, 43, of Gray's Landing; Patsy V. Alexander, 38, of Mason town; and Walter M. Suba, 41, of Footedale.

The FBI said the three men had

Man Killed While Cleaning His Gun

EMPORIUM, Pa. (AP) — Edward Moate, 27, has died of gunshot wounds suffered in his home on Route 120, eight miles east of here.

State Police said a rifle Moate was cleaning went off Thursday. He was shot in the head. Moate was taken to Kaul Memorial Hospital in St. Marys, Elk County, and died a few hours later while being transferred to Erie.

His death brought Cameron County's list of violent fatalities to 12 in the past five months. The county's total population is around 9,000. A triple murder and suicide, and a murder-suicide accounted for six of these deaths.

2 JAILED AND FINED $5,000 IN HEAVY LOSS

RIDGWAY, Pa. (AP)—George Rupperecht and Carl Gerg have been fined $5,000 each and given one-to-two-year prison terms after pleading guilty to financial practices which resulted in the loss of $3.7 million in investors' funds.

Rupperecht is the former president of the Industrial Finance Co., whose investors, with those of three affiliated firms, suffered the loss, Gerg was secretary-treasurer.

Visiting Judge Paul Campbell of Centre County passed sentence after they pleaded guilty Thursday in Elk County Court. He sentenced them to the diagnostic clinic of Western State Penitentiary at Pittsburgh.

INVOLVED 3 FIRMS

In passing sentence he said there was "no taint of embezzlement on the part of either man," and that "the amount of money misappropriated to themselves was small indeed compared to the overall loss."

Rupperecht and Gerg were charged last Dec. 1 with selling securities without registering with the state, issuing false financial statements as corporation officers and fraudulent conversion.

The three subsidiary companies involved in the losses were the St. Marys Finance Co., Elk County Consumers Co. and the Industrial Discount Co.

OPEN SCHOOL WITH PRAYER

PITTSBURGH (AP) — City School Superintendent Calvin E. Gross says Pittsburgh's public schools will continue to open the day with recitations of the Lord's Prayer and readings from the Bible, despite the recent Supreme Court decision involving New York State.

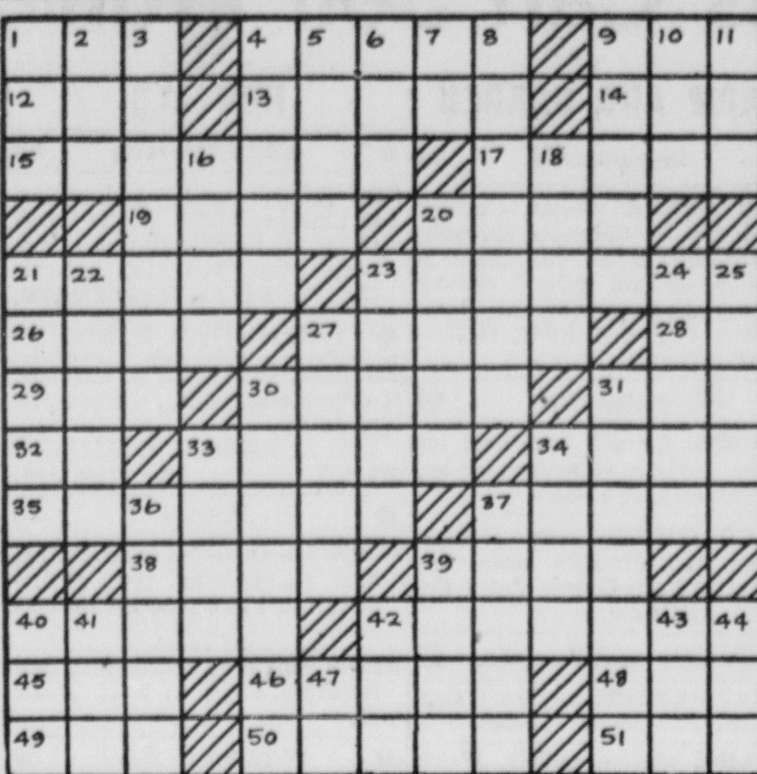

Addressing some 2,700 teachers at a pre-school meeting Thursday, Gross said the court's decision stopped the New York Regents from prescribing a prayer to be said in school but did not affect planned to acquire $200,000 worth of the stamps. They were arrested early this month.

Agents said Volpe was seen giving $500 to Anthony Collins, an investigator for the state Department of Welfare and the U. S. Department of Agriculture, in return for $1,000 worth of food stamps. The exchange took place at Collins' home in New Salem.

They said that an hour later Alexander and Suba were seen giving Collins $2,000 for $10,000 worth of stamps at Alexander's beer distributing business.

State law in Pennsylvania requires the Bible reading, he noted, and custom encourages the saying of the Lord's prayer. He added, "It is my wish that these practices continue without change."

Dr. Gross also proposed a plan to offer salary increases of up to $1,250 a year to teachers who take post-graduate study in their major subjects. The raise would not affect the current minimum salary of $5,000, but would raise the maximum from the present $8,000 to $9,250.
